

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

And Messrs. Hobbs, Nichols and Curran were appointed the committee.

Qualification of Senators.

Subsequently, Mr. Hobbs, for the committee, reported that it had waited upon His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council, and had conveyed to them the message of the Honorable Senate; and that His Excellency the Governor had asked him to say that he should be pleased to attend forthwith upon the Honorable Senate, with His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and the Honorable Council, to administer the oaths of office.

Soon after His Excellency the Governor, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and the Honorable Council came in; and the above-mentioned Senators-elect severally took and subscribed the oaths of office required by the Constitution and a law of the United States to qualify them for the discharge of their duties as Senators for the current political year.

Mr. McKnight was declared elected.

Mr. McKnight was conducted to the chair by Messrs. McLane and Curran, and addressed the Senate as follows:—

HONORABLE SENATORS: You have elected me as your presiding officer for the year 1919, and I thank you sincerely. No words of mine can adequately express my gratitude for the great honor you have conferred upon me. I feel ill prepared for the great trust, but I am happy in the thought that you are all loyal Senators and that you will bear with me in my many failings, believing, as you do, that I shall do my best to uphold the honor and dignity of the position for the glory of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

I do not intend to make a speech, but probably a few remarks on present-day conditions may not be out of order at this time. We, as Americans, have learned many lessons from the great war just closed. We have learned much of the loyalty of our people, of the great sacrifices we were all willing to make, of our wonderful resources and our great saving power. All rules and regulations established for the conservation of food, fuel, etc., were accepted by our people without a murmur.

The war started suddenly, but we were able to stand the readjustments that were necessary in changing from a peace basis to that of war. Courage was needed, sacrifices had to be made, and we all had to work together with a common purpose in view, — the winning of the war; and now that it is over readjustment is again in order, at this time courage and foresight are as much needed as in the former readjustment. The war has cost the country an enormous amount of money, and we reckon the National loss in large figures; but, owing to our wealth and resourcefulness and to our Federal Reserve Banking system, we have come out of the conflict somewhat expanded but still sound financially, — the strongest Nation in the world.

Victory came suddenly, and the shock to our industries was correspondingly severe. The sudden cancellation of government contracts has caused the slowing down of many industrial enterprises and consequent discharge of laborers and mechanics, all of which is not conducive to optimism. But with the removal of all restrictions on American enterprise, we may look forward to greater business activities than ever before.

Massachusetts has contributed liberally of her men and women and wealth, and now she must share in the great industrial activity and prosperity that is just ahead.

As Senators, it is our duty to assist business, both large and small. Many matters relating to business will come before us and we should do all we can to remove the shackles that at present bind, and permit none others to be applied. With business protected, prosperity will be ours, labor will be rewarded, and the conflict between labor and capital avoided.

All signs point to the year 1919 as a very busy one for us; so we must govern ourselves accordingly. Senators will help the work by starting all committee meetings promptly and by conducting the hearings as expeditiously as possible, always keeping in mind that the humblest citizen has the same right to be heard as the man of big affairs, and that all bills should be thoroughly discussed before being reported. Heretofore, much time has been taken up by reason of postponement of hearings and by postponement of the matters in the calendar. I hope these delays will be minimized so that we may have as early prorogation as possible consistent with due consideration for the important matters that will surely come before us.

Again, Honorable Senators, I thank you.

Clerk. On motion of Mr. Gifford, —
Ordered, That a committee of three be appointed by the President to collect, assort and count the votes for a Clerk of the Senate.

Messrs. Gifford, Knox and McIntosh were appointed the committee; and the votes having been collected, assorted and counted, Mr. Gifford, for the committee, reported as follows: —

Whole number of votes,	39

Henry D. Coolidge of Concord had	39

And Mr. Coolidge was declared elected and was qualified by taking the following oath: —

Whereas, you, Henry D. Bill Returned by the Governor with His Objections.

Veto message from Governor,
— East Boston
ferry service.

The engrossed Bill authorizing the city of Boston to raise money for the improvement of the East Boston ferry service (which originated in the Senate) (see Senate, No. 155, changed), — which, on March 26, had been laid before the Governor for his approbation, was returned by His Excellency, together with his objections thereto in writing.

The message was as follows: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, March 31, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

In accordance with the duties conferred by the Constitution of the Commonwealth, "An Act authorizing the city of Boston to raise money for the improvement of East Boston ferry service," which is Senate No. 155, is herewith returned without approval.

This is a time for the application of economy in the ordinary and established public expenditures. The taxpayer is already overburdened. This does not mean that the functions of government should stop, but it does mean that they should proceed in the regular and orderly way and that those who are responsible for expenditures should make them without outside interference.

The very laudable desire which prompted this bill is perfectly apparent. It is, however, a matter entirely within the province of the authorities of the city of Boston. It does not appear that the city has requested or supported this measure, and there is no more reason why direction should be given to the city of Boston regarding the equipment and operation of its ferry service than there is of its highways, schools, lights or other public works. This measure does not come within the permanent policy that directs the raising of a certain sum each year for the support of certain municipal departments.

There are no doubt other objects as much in need of additional outlay as the ferry service. Such objects should be considered as a whole, if at all, on the application and with the support of the city of Boston for an increase of the tax limit. This is clearly a service which the city is bound to provide and differs in no way from other required expenditures which should be made within the tax limit. While this may be a reason for raising the tax limit, it is certainly no reason for making expenditure outside of it. While in terms this is an enabling act, the form is the same as all authorizations for increasing tax limits and is in effect compulsory.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 420) was read and the Senate proceeded to reconsider the bill, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution; and, pending the question on passing the bill, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, the further consideration thereof was postponed until the next session, on motion of Mr. Halliwell.

Opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The following communication was received from the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, to wit: —

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

Opinion of Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court;
Boston Elevated Railway Company, fares; subway rentals.

We, the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, have considered the questions upon which our opinion is required by the order of March 12, 1919, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and respectfully submit this opinion:

The questions relate primarily to the constitutionality, if enacted, of Senate Bill No. 54 and House Bill No. 722. These bills in form and substance are amendments to Special Acts 1918, c. 159. Nevertheless the proposed changes are so radical as to make them in substance important new legislation and not mere perfecting of the details of an existing statute. In order to express an intelligent opinion upon the proposed bills, it is necessary to examine the original statute. We are constrained to do this under these circumstances notwithstanding the well settled rule, from which we do not here depart, that we are not required to express to the General Court or either branch thereof opinions as to the constitutionality or construction of statutes already enacted. Commonwealth v. Smith, 9 Mass. 53. Opinion of the Justices, 226 Mass. 607 and references at page 612.

We consider first Special Acts 1918, c. 159. That act was in substance and effect a taking over of the Boston Elevated Railway by the Commonwealth for operation for a limited period of ten years and possibly for a longer period under some circumstances, upon condition that its terms should be accepted by the holders of not less than a majority of all the stock of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and of the West End Street Railway Company and upon the further condition that the Boston Elevated Railway Company should provide for raising $3,000,000 by the issuance of that amount of new and preferred stock. Two main purposes of that act were (1) to provide for the establishment of rates of fares which should be adequate to pay the cost of performing the service furnished by the Commonwealth through using the property of the Boston Elevated Railway Company as that cost was defined in § 6, and (2) to make an agreement for the payment of the rental for the use of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and its property by the Commonwealth by agreement with the companies interested to be manifested by acceptance by their stockholders. That rental was fixed by §§ 5 and 6 at payment not exceeding seven per cent on the preferred stock and by payment of dividends on the common stock of five per cent for the first two years, five and one-half per cent for the succeeding two years, and six per cent for the remainder of the period of public operation. The chief design of that act was to provide by public operation for fares at rates sufficient to meet all costs of furnishing the service.

In § 11 provision was made for the advancement of moneys by the Commonwealth (to be assessed upon the cities and towns enjoying the service) to maintain the reserve fund. But that was rather an incidental provision to tide over the affairs of the company until the fundamental idea of rates adequate to meet the cost of the service could be established and the habits of the travelling public could become adjusted thereto. That act was accepted by the stockholders of the two corporations and the new stock has been subscribed. Thus the act has become operative according to its terms and constitutes a contract between the parties as set forth in § 18.

We are of opinion that that act was constitutional and for these reasons: The means of transportation for people at large is a matter of public interest. In earlier times turnpikes and toll bridges in private ownership and management afforded facilities for travel. Gradually these mostly have been taken over by counties, cities and towns and the tolls abolished. Andover & Medford Turnpike Corp. v. County Commissioners, 18 Pick. 486. Murray v. County Commissioners, 12 Met. 455. Central Bridge Corp. v. Lowell, 4 Gray, 474; Same v. Same, 15 Gray, 106. The ownership and operation of a ferry by a municipality contravenes no constitutional limitation. Attorney General v. Boston, 123 Mass. 460. Steam railroads in their last analysis are highways for the use of the public. The Commonwealth has in several instances lent its aid to the construction of such railroads. See Kingman, Petitioner, 153 Mass. 566, 570, for references to statutes. Numerous special statutes and finally a general law have been enacted authorizing cities and towns to subscribe for stock of railroads. Kittredge v. North Brookfield, 138 Mass. 286. Commonwealth v. Williamstown, 156 Mass. 70. Such legislation is constitutional. Prince v. Crocker, 166 Mass. 347, 361. The Commonwealth contributed toward the construction of the Hoosac Tunnel and ultimately acquired the ownership and assumed the management of the Troy and Greenfield Railroad. Troy & Greenfield Railroad v. Commonwealth, 127 Mass. 43. Amstein v. Gardner, 134 Mass. 4. Nearly forty early statutes incorporating street railways contained a section whereby the municipality within which such railway was constructed might acquire its property. The construction of the Boston subway for street railway purposes was held a public use for which money raised by taxation lawfully might be expended. Prince v. Crocker, 166 Mass. 347. The same is true of the East Boston Tunnel. Browne v. Turner, 176 Mass. 9. Property invested in street railways by private investors has been held to become thereby affected with a public interest. Donham, Receiver, v. Public Service Commission, 232 Mass. —. It has been decided in other jurisdictions that the construction, acquisition and operation of street railways may be made a municipal function. Sun Printing & Publishing Association v. New York, 152 N. Y. 257. Walker v. Cincinnati, 21 Ohio St. 14. Platt v. San Francisco, 158 Cal. 74, 81-82. Barsaloux v. Chicago, 245 Ill. 598. Under modern conditions local transportation by an electric railway may be determined by the Legislature to concern the welfare and convenience of all the inhabitants of a particular district. In essence Special Acts 1918, c. 159 was a legislative agreement for the lease to the Commonwealth of a public utility to be operated for a limited time by public officers upon the payment of fair rental on an investment made under public supervision and under laws prohibiting stock watering or other means of inflation.

We are led to the conclusion that said c. 159 was within the constitutional power of the Legislature.

A radical change in the scheme embodied in Special Acts 1918, c. 159 is proposed by Senate Bill No. 54 and House Bill No. 722. Rates of fare large enough to pay the cost of the service are abolished and a fare, which is or may be less than cost, is substituted, the balance of the cost to be made up by taxation. Senate Bill No. 54 provides in substance for a maximum fare of five cents upon the lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, and if the income thus received shall be inadequate to meet the cost of the service, as apparently confessedly it will be, the deficiency is to be made up by payments to the Boston Elevated Railway Company from the treasury of the Commonwealth out of moneys to be borrowed. Sums so advanced are to be assessed upon the cities and towns in which the lines of the company are operated in proportion to the number of persons therein using the railway company. Thus the money paid to the Boston Elevated Railway Company is ultimately to be raised by taxation. In form and substance Senate Bill No. 54 is an amendment of Special Acts 1918, c. 159. The proposed bill amends that act in effect by striking out § 7, which requires fares as nearly as possible to meet the cost of service, and by substituting therefor its § 1, which establishes a maximum fare of five cents, and by modifying by its §§ 2, 3, 4 and 5 the terms of §§ 9, 10, 11 and 14 of said c. 159. House Bill No. 722 aims at the result of reducing the fares to be charged on lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company by the payment by the Commonwealth to that company of an amount equal to the rentals due from it for the use of subways and the ultimate assessment of the sums so paid upon the same cities and towns in the same way as in Senate Bill No. 54. This also is a raising by taxation of money for the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company. Thus the conception of rates of fare adequate to meet the cost of the service is wholly eliminated and for that plan a fixed maximum rate of fare, which is or may be much less than the cost of service, is put in its place, the difference between the actual cost of the service and the fixed maximum rate to be made up out of moneys to be raised by taxation. The method adopted is to continue the payment of the dividends to the stockholders of the Boston Elevated Railway Company fixed by said c. 159 and treat these dividends as a part of the cost of the service. The proposed legislation provides also that it shall become operative with its burdens of increased taxation in the various cities and towns to be affected without submission to their voters or municipal boards or officers for acceptance.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the expenses of maintenance and operation of street railways in the neighborhood of Boston have increased enormously since the outbreak of the great war. This is due among other causes to the greatly augmented costs of labor, copper, coal and necessary supplies. The adjustment of fares to meet these changed conditions without unusual public inconvenience and interference with settled social conditions of a considerable portion of the people presents a problem of great difficulty. The present appears to be commonly regarded as a period of transition, where prophecy as to the ultimate adjustments to be reached is uncertain.

The fundamental question thus presented is whether the State has the power under the Constitution to take over a public utility such as is the Boston Elevated Railway Company and operate it for so low a rate of fare as to create a deficit and pay that deficit in the only way in which it can be paid, out of moneys raised by taxation. To state the question differently, it is whether the State can carry such persons as desire to ride upon the Boston Elevated Railway at less than cost and assess the rest of that cost upon the public by taxation. This is an entirely novel question so far as we are aware. No decision has been made of such a question to our knowledge. Reference was made to the general principle in Opinion of the Justices, 150 Mass. 592, 593, in these words: "We also assume that the gas or electricity to be furnished to the inhabitants for their private use is to be paid for by them at rates to be established, which shall be deemed sufficient to reimburse to the cities and towns the reasonable cost of what is furnished, and that all the inhabitants of a city or town are to have the same or similar rights to be supplied with gas or electricity, so far as is reasonably practicable, and the capacity and extent of the works, which it is deemed expedient to maintain, will permit. Whether cities and towns can be authorized to give gas or electricity to their inhabitants, or to sell either to them, at varying and disproportionate prices, selecting their customers, selling to some and arbitrarily refusing to sell to others, are questions which it is not necessary to consider." It also was said in Attorney General v. Boston, 123 Mass. 460, at pages 469, 470, that it was not necessary to consider "whether it is within the power of the Legislature, under the Constitution of the Commonwealth to authorize a city or town to establish and maintain a free ferry at the public expense." It was said in Davies v. Boston, 190 Mass. 194, 197, respecting the same ferry, "The fact that the business, as managed, was not profitable to the city does not change its character."

It is an underlying principle of our government that money raised by taxation can be used only for public purposes and not for the advantage of private individuals. "The power to levy taxes is founded on the right, duty and responsibility to maintain and administer all the governmental functions of the State and to provide for the public welfare. To justify any exercise of the power requires that the expenditure which it is needed to meet shall be for some public service, or some object which concerns the public welfare. The promotion of the interests of individuals, either in respect of property or business, although it may result incidentally in the advancement of the public welfare, is, in its essential character, a private and not a public object." Lowell v. Boston, 111 Mass. 454, 460, 461.

There are numerous instances where the State has authorized the construction and maintenance of public works which involve the element of benefit to private individuals. Assessments of benefits are authorized but seldom are required to equal in amount the benefit conferred. It is limited sometimes to one half only. See as to highways, R. L. c. 50, § 1, now St. 1917, c. 344, Part III, § 1. There is no such limitation as to the assessment of benefits arising from sewers. R. L. c. 49, § 3. Annual assessments for the use of sewers to aid in their maintenance have been authorized. Some statutes authorize assessments for reconstruction of sidewalks. All these statutes have been upheld. Carson v. Brockton, 175 Mass. 242, and 182 U. S. 398. Sayles v. Public Works of Pittsfield, 222 Mass. 93. Statutes authorizing building of a market-house, Spaulding v. Lowell, 20 Pick. 71, the removal of ashes, Haley v. Boston, 191 Mass. 291, and the maintenance of public baths, Bolster v. Lawrence, 225 Mass. 487, part of the expense to be charged to those benefited, have been upheld. In no instance, so far as we are aware, has it been intimated that the entire expense must be borne by those benefited or that the entire benefit must be assessed. The taking over of toll bridges and roads and the abolition of tolls have already been referred to.

The fundamental question is whether the General Court has the right to authorize the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company through trustees appointed by the Governor. It can do so if it is a public purpose. If it is a public purpose, the General Court has the same power respecting that purpose that it has respecting other public purposes. Since transportation of the public such as is furnished by the Boston Elevated Railway is a public purpose, there is no imperative constitutional requirement that it must be operated by the public authorities at cost or at a profit.

The present bills provide in their ultimate analysis for taxation in order that dividends may be paid to the stockholders of a public service corporation. Property invested by private persons in public service corporations becomes affected with a public interest. Statutes authorizing rate regulation of privately owned public utilities rest on this principle. It commonly has been held that stockholders of such corporations who have wisely and honestly invested property actually used for the benefit of the public are entitled to a reasonable return upon their investment. We are unable to discern any distinction in principle between public operation at a loss to be made up by general taxation of a utility owned by the public and a contribution from public money toward the efficient maintenance of the same utility in private ownership but under public operation. A statute to such an end would be constitutional, however, only after a legislative determination that the real value of the private property so devoted to the public use, together with all its other sources of income, required such contribution in order that it might receive fair return. Legislation designed merely to provide a gratuity to private individuals, corporations or stockholders, would of course be unconstitutional. Such a determination was made in essence by the enactment of said c. 159. That act in §§ 5 and 6 substantially determined that the dividends there set forth constituted a fair return on actual investment.

Therefore, we are of opinion that the public as a body has a concern in the continued operation of the Boston Elevated Railway, by the trustees appointed by the Governor, in a safe and practical manner adequate to the needs of those who travel. If the rational way to accomplish this result is an assumption by the public of a part of the expense so that the burden of operation shall not fall alone upon the shareholders but also in part upon the cities and towns using the service in the way provided in the proposed bills, that is a public purpose. It was an inducement to stockholders to continue an otherwise losing and possibly confiscatory investment.

The right to apportion the public burdens among different, separate divisions of the State can hardly be questioned. Quincy & Hingham Turnpike Corp. v. County of Norfolk, 6 Allen, 353. Although it has been the custom of the General Court to submit such legislation to the acceptance of the municipalities to whose taxes resort must be had for the money required, that has not always been done nor is it necessary under the Constitution. The power of the Legislature is paramount in this particular. Kingman, Petitioner, 153 Mass. 566.

The questions presented reach into a new field differing fundamentally from any hitherto occupied by legislation. We have given them the best consideration possible in the time at our disposal.

Therefore we answer "yes" to questions (1) and (2) and "no" to questions (3) and (4).

Resolve Returned by the Governor with Recommendation of Amendments.

The engrossed Resolve to extend the time within which the commissioners for consolidating and arranging the general laws of the Commonwealth are required to make their final report (which originated in the Senate) (see Senate, No. 344), — which, on April 4, had been laid before the Governor for his approbation, was returned by His Excellency with the following message:

Commissioners for consolidating and arranging the General Laws,
— final report.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, April 10, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Acting under the authority conferred by a recent amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, Senate Resolve No. 344, which is a resolve "To Extend the Time within which the Commissioners for Consolidating and Arranging the General Laws of the Commonwealth are required to make their Final Report," is herewith returned, with the recommendation that the resolve be amended as follows: —

By striking out in the fifth line of the engrossed copy of the resolve the words "first day of September" and inserting in place thereof "fifteenth day of October"; by striking out in the thirteenth line thereof the words "April first" and inserting in place thereof "May fifteenth"; and by striking out in the fifteenth line thereof the words "September first" and inserting in place thereof "October fifteenth".

This work is of great importance and cannot be hastily performed. It ought to be done expeditiously and ought to include the changes of the present year, especially as there are to be consolidations of the various departments. Independent investigations made by my request by the most competent judges of such work that I could find in the Commonwealth show that it is impossible to finish the work by the first of September. Unless it is to be done well it would be of no value, and it would be better to discard all the work which has been done up to the present time and begin anew than to undertake to put before the people of the Commonwealth a hurried revision of the statutes under which they are to live.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (Senate, No. 450) was read and the Senate proceeded to consider the resolve, in accordance with the provisions of Article LVI of the Amendments of the Constitution; and the resolve was amended as recommended by His Excellency the Governor as follows, to wit: —

“By striking out in the fifth line of the engrossed copy of the resolve (line 6, as printed) the words ‘first day of September’ and inserting in place thereof ‘fifteenth day of October’; by striking out in the thirteenth line thereof (line 16, as printed) the words ‘April first’ and inserting in place thereof ‘May fifteenth’; and by striking out in the fifteenth line thereof (line 19, as printed) the words ‘September first’ and inserting in place thereof ‘October fifteenth’”.

Opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The following communication was received from the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, to wit: —

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

We, the justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, have considered the questions upon which our opinion is required by the order of April 2, 1919, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and respectfully submit this opinion:

Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, — admission of certain persons to grand jury room during examination of witnesses.

The first inquiry in substance and effect is whether under the Constitution, the grand jury, upon request of the district attorney or otherwise, may permit to be present at the examination of witnesses in a case a police officer who has prepared such case.

The Constitution by article XII of the Declaration of Rights secures to every person protection against accusation and trial for crimes of great magnitude without an indictment by the grand jury. That protection is afforded by the phrase "the law of the land" in the provision that no person shall be "arrested, imprisoned, despoiled or deprived of his property, immunities or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled or deprived of his life, liberty or estate but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land." "The law of the land" implies an indictment or presentment by the grand jury in instances to which that proceeding is necessary. The grand jury is an ancient institution. It always has been venerated and highly prized in this country. It has been regarded as the shield of innocence against the plottings of private malice, as the defense of the weak against the oppression of political power, and as the guard of the liberties of the people against the encroachments of unfounded accusations from any source. These blessings accrue from the grand jury because its proceedings are secret and uninfluenced by the presence of those not officially and necessarily connected with it. It has been the practice for more than two hundred years for its investigations to be in private, except that the district attorney and his assistant are present. Secrecy is a vital requisite of grand jury procedure. It was said in the recent decision of Commonwealth v. Harris, 231 Mass. 584, at page 586, quoting in part the words of Chief Justice Shaw in Jones v. Robbins, 8 Gray, 329, 344: "'The right of individual citizens to be secure from an open and public accusation of crime, and from the trouble, expense and anxiety of a public trial, before a probable cause is established by the presentment and indictment of a grand jury, in case of high offences, is justly regarded as one of the securities to the innocent against hasty, malicious and oppressive public prosecutions, and as one of the ancient immunities and privileges of English liberty.' The above quotation is a declaration and decision that the twelfth article of the Declaration of Rights in part was aimed and intended to prohibit the scandal and disgrace of a trial in public of persons charged with infamous crimes and offences when, in truth, there was no sufficient cause to suspect their guilt. It is also a declaration that it shall no longer be possible for one or more judges to compel or direct the examination of a witness to be held in open court before the grand jury, should the judges seek to overawe the latter or the witness by the presence of other witnesses or bystanders, or should he or they be of opinion the prosecution is too indulgently or too vindictively conducted." These essential characteristics of the grand jury would be broken down if a police officer or other person who had investigated the evidence, interviewed the witnesses, and formulated a plan for prosecuting the accused should be permitted to be present during the hearing of testimony. This conclusion follows irresistibly from the two decisions just cited, by which we are bound.

There is no inherent necessity in the efficient conduct of investigation by the grand jury which justifies such invasion of their proceedings by strangers. The presence of a police officer cannot be justified upon such ground. Indeed the attendance of the district attorney and his assistant subverts every rational purpose which could be accomplished by the proposed bill. The attendance of a police officer would afford opportunity for subjecting witnesses to fear or intimidation, for preventing freedom of full disclosure by testimony, and for infringing the secrecy of the proceedings. Mere rules of procedure practiced by our ancestors at the time of the adoption of the Constitution did not become an inherent part of due process. But no change "can be made which disregards those fundamental principles, to be ascertained from time to time by judicial action, which have relation to process of law and protect the citizen in his private right, and guard him against the arbitrary action of government." Twining v. New Jersey, 211 U. S. 78, 101.

The second branch of the inquiry is whether a statute, authorizing the use of interpreters for witnesses whose ignorance of English renders such course necessary, would be constitutional. The use of interpreters in the presentation to the grand jury of the testimony of witnesses who cannot speak English arises from inherent necessity. It always has been practiced. The Case of Norberg, 4 Mass. 81. The investigations of the grand jury cannot be hampered because witnesses through ignorance or dumbness are unable directly to impart their knowledge of material facts. An interpreter is a witness. Amory v. Fellows, 5 Mass. 219, 226. The enactment of a statute to this end would not be unconstitutional. It would add nothing, however, to practice already existing in courts without any statute.

We answer, therefore, to the first question, that section 1 of Senate Bill No. 102 would be unconstitutional and that section

2 of that bill would not be unconstitutional; and to the second question, that a statute authorizing the presence with the grand jury, during the examination of witnesses, of a police officer or other person who has prepared the case, would be unconstitutional, and that a statute authorizing the use of an interpreter, in cases where a witness cannot speak English or speaks it so deficiently as not to convey intelligible information, would not be unconstitutional.

Communication from the Attorney-General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney-General, to wit:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
BOSTON, April 14, 1919.

HON. EDWIN T. MCKNIGHT, President of the Senate.

DEAR SIR:—I beg to acknowledge an order from the Honorable Senate in the following form:

Attorney-General, — opinion relative to protection against careless operation of motor-vehicles.

"Ordered, Whereas, There are pending in the General Court a bill entitled 'An Act to provide for the protection of persons and property in case of injuries due to the careless operation of motor-vehicles,' numbered Senate, 190, and another entitled 'An Act to provide security to the public for personal injuries caused by motor-vehicles,' numbered House, 261, copies of which are hereto annexed, and

Whereas, Doubt has been raised as to the constitutionality of these bills if enacted into law, therefore be it

Ordered, That the Senate require the opinion of the Attorney-General on the following important questions of law:—

1. Would either of the aforesaid bills be unconstitutional if enacted?
2. Is it within the constitutional power of the General Court to provide by law that every licensee to operate a motor-vehicle be required to furnish security by bond, insurance policy, or otherwise, against whatever damage to persons or property may result from the operation by the licensee of such vehicle?"

Senate Bill No. 190, entitled as stated in the order, is as follows:

"SECTION 1. No license shall be granted under and pursuant to chapter five hundred and thirty-four of the Acts of nineteen hundred and nine, and acts in amendment thereof, for the operation of motor-vehicles unless and until every such applicant shall have provided indemnity satisfactory to the Massachusetts Highway Commission by insurance or otherwise against all damages, either to persons or property, that may result from his or her operation of motor-vehicles within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

SECTION 2. This act shall not, however, apply to special licenses issued to chauffeurs."

In my judgment, it is well within the power of the General Court, in the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth, to require that every person who desires to operate a motor-vehicle upon the public highways shall, before receiving authority thus to operate such vehicle, provide reasonable security for the satisfaction by him of any judgments that may be recovered against him by any member of the public on account of personal injuries. The power to regulate the use of the public highways is unquestioned. This power must include the right to impose reasonable conditions upon such use by any vehicles or means of transportation which are unusual in character and especially likely to cause injury to other travelers. In my opinion, the requirement that security of the character stated be given is a reasonable condition.

Yet it must be borne in mind that all such police regulations must operate equally upon all citizens who come within their scope, and that there must be no arbitrary discrimination between different classes of citizens. Commonwealth v. Hana, 195 Mass. 262, 266. When a police regulation is restricted in its application to certain classes of citizens only and others are exempt from its burden, such a regulation must be carefully examined in order to determine whether there can be any sound basis in reason for the distinction made.

In my judgment, Senate Bill No. 190 cannot stand the test of such an examination. It requires security to be given only by persons who are granted licenses "for the operation of motor-vehicles." This obviously refers only to licenses to operate issued under St. 1909, c. 534, § 8, and its amendments, not to the registration of motor-vehicles under section 2 of that statute. Thus, it is the person who operates the vehicle, not its owner, for whose benefit or in whose business it is operated, who must give the security. Then, by section 2, the bill does not apply to persons securing special licenses issued to chauffeurs under section 8 above referred to. A chauffeur is defined by St. 1909, c. 534, § 1, as amended by Gen. St. 1915, c. 16, § 1, as "any person who operates a motor-vehicle and who directly or indirectly receives pay or any compensation whatsoever for any work or services in connection therewith." The result is that no security of any sort is required in cases where motor-vehicles are operated only by employees of the owners. This of course exempts from the requirement of this bill most trucks and other motor-vehicles used for business purposes. Thus, the bill is confined almost exclusively to requiring security of persons who operate their own vehicles or those owned by members of their family.

I see no basis for making the distinctions above stated, and none has been called to my attention. In my judgment, this bill is plainly arbitrary in the distinctions which it makes, and, therefore, if enacted, it would necessarily be held unconstitutional for that reason. Furthermore, I have grave doubts as to the validity of the provisions in this bill which leave the nature and amount of the "indemnity" to be given entirely to the determination of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, but there is no occasion to consider that phase of the bill.

House Bill No. 261 is very different in character from the bill just considered. Its important sections are as follows:

"SECTION 1. The Massachusetts Highway Commission, hereinafter called the commission, shall refuse to register and to grant any certificate of registration on any motor-vehicle until the applicant therefor has filed with said commission either a policy of insurance or bond against public liability, as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 2. A policy of insurance against public liability for the purposes of this act is hereby defined as a policy which shall indemnify the insured against loss from liability imposed by law upon the insured for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death at any time resulting therefrom, accidentally suffered during the policy period by any person or persons other than employees of the insured as a result of the ownership, maintenance or use of a motor-vehicle owned by the insured.

SECTION 3. Said policy of insurance shall be in the sum of not less than two thousand dollars, and shall run at least for the period for which the applicant seeks registration of his motor-vehicle, and shall be in one of the standard forms approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

SECTION 4. The bond against public liability shall provide that the applicant giving the same shall pay any judgment for less than two thousand dollars and two thousand dollars on any judgment for more than two thousand dollars secured against said applicant by any person or persons other than his employees who have accidentally suffered bodily injuries, including death, at any time resulting therefrom, as a result of the ownership, maintenance or use of a motor-vehicle owned by the applicant. The bond shall be in the penal sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, shall run for not less than the period for which the applicant seeks registration, and shall be in such form and shall contain such further provisions as the commission shall deem necessary for the security and convenience of the public. The bond shall be executed by the applicant for registration with at least two good and sufficient sureties who shall be residents of Massachusetts and together owners of unencumbered real estate within the Commonwealth of a total assessed value of not less than five thousand dollars.

SECTION 5. In lieu of real estate sureties as stipulated in the preceding section, one surety company as surety, or cash to an amount of two thousand one hundred dollars, or bonds, stocks or other evidences of indebtedness of a market value of not less than two thousand five hundred dollars as security may be accepted."

The remainder of the bill is chiefly devoted to administrative provisions, and need not be stated in detail.

This bill requires the giving of security in all cases as a condition precedent to the registration of any motor-vehicle under St. 1909, c. 534, § 2. As all motor-vehicles as defined in section 1 of that act must thus be registered by their owners in order legally to be operated upon the public highways, the requirement of this bill applies to all owners of such motor-vehicles. The term "owner," as used in this statute, is interpreted to include lessees, bailees, mortgagees in possession and vendees under conditional sales. Downey v. Bay State Street Railway Co., 225 Mass. 281. By section 2 registration expires upon a "transfer of ownership", and registration by the new owner then becomes necessary. Thus, the bill provides security for members of the public suffering injuries in all instances where those injuries result in the legal liability of the owner of the vehicle as thus defined. This would include all cases where the vehicle was being operated by such owner or in his behalf by his agent or employee while acting within the scope of his employment. The only case of importance not covered is where the agent or employee is acting otherwise than in the course of his duty. Such cases, however, ordinarily involve misconduct on the part of the agent or employee and of course do not subject the employer to liability. In my judgment, a failure to provide security in that case does not make this bill arbitrary in its application or otherwise discriminatory. It bears equally upon all owners of motor-vehicles. It imposes no burden upon any person who is an operator but not an owner. It covers all cases where such vehicles are being operated for the benefit of their owners.

Furthermore, in my judgment, the nature of the security required is unobjectionable. This is to be a policy of liability insurance or a bond. If the former is given, the statutes of the Commonwealth (St. 1914, c. 464) make the liability of the insurer absolute upon the establishment of the liability of the insured and enforceable at the suit of the injured party. The bond permitted by the bill provides a similar liability on the part of the sureties. The penal sum of this bond is limited to $2,000, which appears to be a reasonable sum, and the principal may, if he desires, in lieu of furnishing sureties thereon, deposit cash in the sum of $2,100 or negotiable securities of the market value of $2,500. These margins above the penal sum of the bond are not unreasonable, and the privilege of making such a deposit in lieu of sureties leaves the form of security to be given largely to the choice of the motor-vehicle owner. Nothing is left to the determination of the Massachusetts Highway Commission except the approval of the form of the bond within these definite limits fixed by the statute.

In my judgment, therefore, House Bill No. 261, if enacted, would be a valid and constitutional exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth. I suggest, however, that if it is to be enacted it be perfected in certain respects.

Section 3 refers to standard forms of liability insurance policies approved by the Insurance Commissioner. I am informed that there are no such standard forms. Section 4 should make plain to whom the bond is to run, and section 9 should make definite provision for the manner in which suit is to be brought upon the bond, and by whom. The provision in section 13, that "this act shall take effect upon its passage," should, in view of the provisions of the initiative and referendum amendment to the Constitution, be omitted. Even though the bill is to apply only to registration in subsequent years, it cannot be made effective upon its passage except by a compliance with the provisions of that amendment relating to emergency measures.

Very likely what I have already said sufficiently answers your second question. It is not clear whether that question relates to licenses to operate motor-vehicles or to the registration of such vehicles by their owners. Then, the amount of the security to be required is not stated and the reference to its possible form is vague. I do not believe that it is wise for me to attempt to discuss such a question except in connection with a specific bill.

Yours very truly,
HENRY C. ATTWILL,
Attorney-General.

The communication (see Senate, No. 472) was read; and, on motions of Mr. Beck, it was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

*Bill Returned by the Governor with Recommendation of Amendments.*Returning soldiers and sailors, — civil service.

The engrossed Bill to suspend the civil service laws and regulations in favor of returning soldiers and sailors (which originated in the Senate) (see House, No. 1543, amended), — which, on May 2, had been laid before the Governor for his approbation, was returned by His Excellency with the following message:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, May 3, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

In accordance with the provisions of the constitution of the Commonwealth, the bill entitled "An Act to Suspend the Civil Service Laws and Regulations in Favor of Returning Soldiers and Sailors," known as General Act House No. 1543, is herewith returned, with the recommendation that it be amended by adding after the words "Section 3" the following: — "The provisions of this act shall not apply to an appointment until all veterans of the present war who have qualified in the classified service and are eligible to such appointment have been certified for such appointment and appointed or rejected in accordance with law; nor shall it apply to the appointing of policemen or firemen; nor shall it apply to appointments to any health service which the Civil Service Commission, with the approval of the Governor and Council, may from time to time declare requires a special technical training;" and by striking out in section 3 the words: — "Nor shall it be deemed to dispense with existing laws and regulations requiring applicants for positions in a police or fire department to pass a physical examination."

The Commonwealth has already provided by law that those veterans who have been in the service who are qualified under the civil service laws shall keep and maintain their places. It would obviously be very unfair to them if they should now find that notwithstanding their war record and their qualifications by examination they are not entitled to the first choice. I fully realize that this amendment would have been made had it not been overlooked. It is fully in accord with the patriotic spirit that has prompted the proposal of this measure.

The balance of the amendment applies to public safety and public health. There is no favor which can be extended to our veterans too great for us to give. It should be borne in mind, however, that there are two hundred thousand of them and only a few thousand can go into the civil service. The public safety and the public health must be maintained at the highest point of efficiency that legislative ingenuity can devise. It would be very unjust to the nearly two hundred thousand veterans and their dependents if we entrusted the protection of their safety and their health to any person not qualified in every respect. If it should be said that of course the appointing power would never appoint an incompetent person, the reply is that this act is not dealing with the question of what the appointing power will do. It is the question of what the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will by law permit the appointing power to do. I feel very certain that the law-making authority of the Commonwealth does not wish to say that it will permit by law the appointment of any incompetent person but rather that it will by law forbid any such action. Patriotism could require no less. The men who have been in the service at the risk of their lives to preserve a rule of law will not be pleased if they find on their return that those who have remained at home are lacking in the courage to pursue the same course.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (Senate, No. 504) was read and the Senate proceeded to consider the bill, in accordance with the provisions of Article LVI of the Amendments of the Constitution.

The question was stated on adopting the following amendments recommended by His Excellency the Governor, to wit: —

Adding after the words "Section 3", the following: — "The provisions of this act shall not apply to an appointment until all veterans of the present war who have qualified in the classified service and are eligible to such appointment have been certified for such appointment and appointed or rejected in accordance with law; nor shall it apply to the appointing of policemen or firemen; nor shall it apply to appointments to any health service which the Civil Service Commission, with the approval of the Governor and Council, may from time to time declare requires a special technical training;" and by striking out, in section 3 (lines 8 to 11, inclusive, as printed), the words "nor shall it be deemed to dispense with existing laws and regulations requiring applicants for positions in a police or fire department to pass a physical examination."

Pending the question on adopting the foregoing amendments, the further consideration of the bill was postponed until the following Wednesday, on motion of Mr. McLane.

Engrossed Bill to Suspend the Civil Service Laws and Regulations in Favor of Returning Soldiers and Sailors, sent to the House for its action.

The President stated that on Thursday, May 8th, the engrossed Bill to suspend the civil service laws and regulations in favor of returning soldiers and sailors (see House, No. 1543, amended), which had been returned to the Senate by His Excellency the Governor with a recommendation that amendments specified by him be made therein, — which amendments had been considered and rejected, — had again been passed to be enacted by the Senate. The President announced that, at the request of the Committee on Rules, the Attorney-General had furnished the committee with a written opinion as to procedure necessary in the General Court in order that a bill, so returned, may again be laid before the Governor for his approbation. The communication to which the President referred was as follows: —

Returning soldiers and sailors, — civil service.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
BOSTON, May 12, 1919.

HON. EDWIN T. MCKNIGHT, President of the Senate and Chairman of the Committee on Rules.

SIR: — I beg to acknowledge your communication, dated May 9, 1919, in which you request my opinion upon the following questions: —

“When, in accordance with the provisions of Article LVI of the Amendments to the Constitution, a bill is returned by the Governor with a recommendation that amendments specified by him be made therein, and the branch to which the bill has been returned fails to amend it, what procedure must follow in that branch, or in both branches, in order that the said bill may again be laid before the Governor for his approbation?”

If the branch to which the bill is so returned fails to amend it, can that branch thereupon proceed to re-enact the bill, and return it to the Governor, without first giving the co-ordinate branch opportunity to consider the bill with reference to any amendment to which it may be subject, under the provisions of the said Article LVI?”

Article LVI of the Amendments to the Constitution reads as follows: —

“The Governor, within five days after any bill or resolve shall have been laid before him, shall have the right to return it to the branch of the General Court in which it originated with a recommendation that any amendment or amendments specified by him be made therein. Such bill or resolve shall thereupon be before the General Court and subject to amendment and re-enactment. If such bill or resolve is re-enacted in any form it shall again be laid before the Governor for his action, but he shall have no right to return the same a second time with a recommendation to amend."

When a bill or resolve is returned under the provisions of this article to the branch of the General Court in which it originated, it is before the General Court and subject to amendment and re-enactment. If it is re-enacted in any form it shall again be laid before the Governor for his action.

I am of the opinion that the General Court is not restricted to the amendments proposed by the Governor in amending a bill returned. The suggestions of the Governor may entail further amendments, or other amendments may better secure the purposes his suggested amendments are designed to accomplish. That this was contemplated by the framers of the amendment seems plain from the third sentence of the amendment, which provides that if the "bill or resolve is re-enacted in any form it shall again be laid before the governor for his action." Furthermore, this provision of the article, in my judgment, requires re-enactment by both branches of the General Court of a bill returned. It is to be observed that there is no provision for again laying the bill before the Governor without re-enactment. It may be that one branch may be of the view that a bill as to which the Governor suggests an amendment should not be re-enacted without amendment. Part the second, chapter I, section I, article I, of the Constitution provides that each branch shall have a negative on the other. Thus it would seem to follow that a bill returned may be amended in such manner as the General Court may determine, or may be rejected; but before it can again be laid before the Governor for his action it must be re-enacted by the General Court, that is, by both branches thereof.

Accordingly, I am of the opinion that the answer to your first question is that the bill must be re-enacted by both branches of the General Court in order that it may again be laid before the Governor. The order in which it may be re-enacted by the Senate and House is a matter to be determined by the General Court.

Your second question is to be answered in the negative.

Very truly yours,

HENRY C. ATTWILL.

Attorney-General.

The President, continuing, said "If there is no objection, the vote of the Senate on Thursday last in again passing the bill to be enacted will be considered as not having been taken. Is there objection? The Chair hears no objection; and the Senate therefore, by unanimous consent, rescinds its action of last Thursday in re-enacting the bill. The bill will be sent down to the House for its action."

The bill was, accordingly, sent down to the House for its action.

Reconsideration.

Mr. Churchill asked unanimous consent that he might move that the Senate reconsider the vote by which, at a previous session, it had non-concurred in the suspension of the 12th joint rule with reference to the House petition (accompanied by resolve, House, No. 1672) of John C. Gilbert and others for the payment of a sum of money to the widow of Charles F. Gray, lately employed in the department of the Auditor of the Commonwealth; and, there being no objection, this motion was entertained; and it prevailed.

Message from His Excellency the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, May 20, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Message from Governor, — employment for disabled persons. —

Massachusetts is a great industrial Commonwealth. It has been interested in taking every possible means to provide for the welfare of the people engaged in its industries. It has become the foremost State in activities of this nature. Our industrial life is not without its peril to health and its danger of personal injury. Health conditions are being steadily bettered by legislation providing for the best of sanitary conditions under which people work. Personal injury has been reduced and guarded against by legislation requiring safety devices upon dangerous machinery. This has not, however, been able to eliminate accidents and there are in this Commonwealth annually many thousands of such accidents. Many of our great industrial plants have provided most generously for the immediate relief of such injuries by an official medical, surgical and hospital equipment.

There are many instances, however, of people who are so injured as to be incapable of again resuming their former employment. In nearly all instances they could with the help of the surgical skill and the mechanical devices which have been developed in the present war for the benefit of injured soldiers, be so restored physically and so trained that they could become self sustaining producers.

The problem of so restoring, equipping and training such injured persons should be at once considered by the Commonwealth. There is in existence the splendid hospital of reconstruction which was so generously provided by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks for the Federal government to be used for the benefit of injured service men. Fortunately, the contest at arms closed before we had suffered in that direction as much as our allies; but with this example before us of the benefits that can be conferred, all injured people ought to be provided with a means of re-establishing themselves physically and industrially, and there is no way that this object can be attained except through government activity.

It is therefore recommended that the Industrial Accident Board be authorized to make an investigation of the needs of the Commonwealth for this purpose, and of the resources, public and private, which exist for performing these services; and report to the next General Court a plan for providing such a system for the benefit of the people of the Commonwealth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 551) was read and was referred to the committee on Reconstruction.

Sent down for concurrence.

Communication from the Attorney-General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney-General, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
BOSTON, May 26, 1919.

Hon. EDWIN T. MCKNIGHT, President of the Senate.

DEAR SIR: — I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the following order passed by the Honorable Senate:

Communication from Attorney-General, — charges for price of gas.

"Ordered, That the Senate request the opinion of the Attorney-General as to whether a gas company, as defined in section one of chapter seven hundred and forty-two of the Acts of nineteen hundred and fourteen, may lawfully, after the establishment by the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners or otherwise of a net maximum rate to be charged by such company, establish a gross rate, in excess of said net rate, which shall be paid by all customers who do not, prior to a specified date, pay the net rate."

I assume that the question presented by the order arises from a practice, which I am informed by the chairman of the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners has prevailed for many years, of fixing in the orders of said Board issued under the provisions of St. 1914, c. 742, § 162, a net price that may be charged by the company affected by the order. It is provided by said section 162 that upon the complaint in writing of the mayor of a city or the selectmen of a town, or of twenty customers, either as to the quality or price of the gas or electricity sold and delivered, the Board, after a hearing, may order any reduction in the price of gas or electricity or an improvement in the quality thereof, and it is further provided that the maximum price fixed by such order shall not thereafter be increased by the company except as provided in the following section. The following section (§ 163) provides for a revision of orders relative to the price and quality of gas or electricity made by the Board, upon application by the company.

Apart from these two sections, and except in so far as by reason of the nature of the business the rates must be reasonable, there are no provisions of general law that restrict a gas or electric light company as to the charges it may make for the service it furnishes or as to the regulations it may adopt to insure prompt payment in accordance with the terms upon which it sells gas or electricity. Thus, a gas or electric light company as to which no order has been made may increase the price of gas or electricity without regard to said sections.

As I understand it, therefore, the question presented is this: Where a gas company has been charging a net price to those paying their bills promptly when due and a larger price to those failing to pay when due, and the Board orders a reduction in or a revision of the net price, does the action of the Board in fixing a net price prohibit the charging thereafter of a 'gross price to the users of gas who do not pay the charges when due?

Assuming that the Board is authorized to make such an order, which I deem it unnecessary to determine, as otherwise it would seem no order binding upon the company is made, I am of the opinion that in such a case the company may charge a gross rate. A long continued practice, acquiesced in by the public, is not lightly to be disturbed. But for the last sentence of section 162, there would be no doubt, as the only order made by the Board is in relation to the net price, leaving the company free to charge, as before, a gross price in excess of the net price to those not paying their bills promptly. The last sentence of the section provides that "the maximum price fixed by such order shall not thereafter be increased by said company except as provided in the following section." This provision originally appeared as a part of St. 1888, c. 350. The other provisions of that act are now contained in said section 163. The purpose of the provision seems to have been to insure that a price once fixed by an order of the Board should not thereafter be increased except as provided in said chapter 350. It is a reasonable view to take that it was not intended by this provision to interfere with the conduct of the business of a company other than as ordered by the Board. It is to be noted that apparently the provision has no application to an order made under the provisions of said section 163. The intent was to prohibit a company from increasing the price fixed by an order of the Board. When, by order, the Board deals solely with a net price, it contemplates that a gross price in excess will be charged and impliedly authorizes such a charge. Obviously, the gross rate must be reasonable and the difference between the gross and net rates must have relation to the expense to which the company is put by the failure of the users of gas to pay the net rate when due. Assuming, therefore, that the gross rate charged is a reasonable rate, the question of the Honorable Senate is to be answered in the affirmative.

Yours very truly,

HENRY C. ATTWILL,
Attorney-General.

The communication was read and, on motions of Mr. Finkel, was laid on the table and ordered to be printed (Senate, No. 561).

Bill Returned by the Governor with His Objections.

The engrossed Bill relative to appointments and promotions in the police forces of cities and towns (which originated in the Senate) (see Senate, No. 509, amended), — which, on May 28, had been laid before the Governor for his approbation, and which on Saturday, May 31, had been returned by His Excellency to the office of the Clerk of the Senate together with his objections thereto in writing, — was laid before the Senate.

Veto, — police forces, — appointments and promotions.

The message was as follows: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, May 31, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Acting under the authority of the constitution of the Commonwealth, an act entitled "An Act Relative to Appointments and Promotions in the Police Forces of Cities and Towns" (Senate No. 509), is herewith returned without approval.

It is of doubtful expediency to limit the appointing power in police departments to a promotion which is not to exceed more than one grade at any time and in the detective forces of a department it would be substantially impossible to have an adequate service by such means. There is no known method of examining the men in the detective department that is satisfactory. If civil service examinations are to have any meaning, they should be open to all and persons should be appointed who are able to qualify. Of course experience would always be a large factor. In smaller forces there would never be but two men eligible for promotion, one of whom would have to be appointed whatever his qualifications might be.

The policemen of Massachusetts are recognized as among the most intelligent and efficient of any in the world. Their courage and ability has often been a subject of favorable comment and praise. They are the guardians of public security, performing a function that lies at the foundation of all liberty. Nothing should be permitted that would tend in any degree to destroy the efficiency that is responsible for this splendid record. The democracy of the force ought to be maintained and no rule of seniority should be allowed to supersede the present democratic rule of efficiency.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 571) was read and the Senate proceeded to reconsider the bill, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution; and, pending the question on passing the bill, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, the further consideration thereof was postponed until the next session, on motion of Mr. McLane.

Communication from the Attorney-General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney-General, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
BOSTON, June 2, 1919.

HON. EDWIN T. MCKNIGHT, President of the Senate.

Attorney-General, — opinion relative to dimensions of commercial vehicles and motor trucks.

DEAR SIR: — I beg to acknowledge the receipt of an order from the Honorable Senate in the following form:

“Ordered, That the Senate request the opinion of the Attorney-General on the question whether exempting from the provisions of Senate Bill No. 547, entitled ‘An Act to regulate the dimensions of commercial vehicles and motor trucks and their trailers,’ so far as they restrict the height of motor vehicles and their loads, delivery vehicles owned by manufacturers and dealers in boxes or barrels, would render the bill unconstitutional.”

Section 1 of the proposed bill is as follows:

“No commercial vehicle, motor truck, or motor-drawn vehicle shall be operated on any way in this commonwealth, as defined in section one of chapter five hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, and amendments thereof, the outside width of which is more than ninety-six inches, the height of which exceeds thirteen feet, or the extreme over-all length of which exceeds twenty-eight feet; except that such vehicle may be operated exceeding thirteen feet in height when a special permit so to operate is secured from the superintendent of streets, selectmen or local road authorities having charge of the repair and maintenance of highways in the several cities and towns: provided, however, that where more than one vehicle or trailer is operated the length of such vehicles may exceed twenty-eight feet, but in no event shall all such vehicles or trailers so drawn or operated exceed eighty feet in length, over all. All of the aforesaid dimensions shall be inclusive of the load.”

Section 2 provides for the granting of permits also by the Massachusetts Highway Commission and by the county commissioners, and section 3 establishes a penalty for violation of the act.

I am informed that an amendment has been proposed by which, if it is adopted, an additional section will be added to the bill as follows:

“In so far as it restricts the height of motor vehicles and their loads, this act shall not apply to delivery vehicles owned by manufacturers or dealers in boxes or barrels.”

The order of the Senate appears to relate merely to the question whether this amendment will render the bill unconstitutional if enacted with the proposed amendment incorporated therein.

An exemption of special classes of persons from the burden of general police regulations always requires a clear explanation. It is fundamental that there can be no unreasonable or arbitrary distinctions in the application of such a statute. Either it must apply equally to all, or any classification which it attempts must be based upon some reasonable ground connected with the nature and purpose of the regulation or the general public interest. That a regulation may cause special inconvenience to persons in certain kinds of business is not alone a reasonable ground for exempting them. Such exemptions and distinctions must be based upon public interest, not upon private inconvenience.

The purpose of the proposed bill appears to be merely to regulate and limit in the interest of public safety and convenience the dimensions of motor vehicles with their loads which are operated upon the public highways. The bill appears to have no relation to the weight of the vehicle or its load. Presumably manufacturers or dealers in boxes or barrels often have occasion in transporting empty boxes and barrels to carry loads of unusual height over the public highways, but so do manufacturers and dealers in other bulky articles of light weight. This bill, if enacted, will prove as inconvenient to all such manufacturers and dealers as to those especially exempted by the proposed amendment. Furthermore, this amendment completely exempts motor vehicles owned by the manufacturers and dealers specified, whether used in transporting boxes or barrels or any other articles or material. Then, others than manufacturers and dealers in boxes or barrels have occasion to transport them on motor vehicles. A motor truck and its load exceeding thirteen feet in height is precisely as great a danger or inconvenience to the public whether operated by a person of the exempted class or by any other person.

No sound distinction for the classification proposed by this amendment in any way related to the purpose of this bill or the general public interest has been suggested to me, and none occurs to me. I must advise you that the bill would, in my judgment, be unconstitutional if enacted with the proposed amendment incorporated therein on the ground that in that form it would be unreasonable class legislation, and that it would deny to persons operating motor vehicles within the Commonwealth the equal protection of the laws in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Yours very truly,

HENRY C. ATTWILL.
Attorney-General.

PAPERS FROM THE HOUSE.

Bill Returned by His Excellency the Governor with His Objections Thereto.

Veto, — compensation of members of the General Court.

The engrossed Bill to establish the compensation of the members of the General Court (see House, No. 1629, as amended, which, on June 3, had been laid before His Excellency the Governor for his approbation), came up, the same having been returned by His Excellency to the House, — the branch in which it originated, — with his objections thereto in writing, and having been passed by that branch, notwithstanding the said objections.

The message was as follows: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, June 6, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

In accordance with the duty imposed by the Constitution, a bill entitled, "An Act to Establish the Compensation of the Members of the General Court," being House, No. 1629, is herewith returned without approval.

This bill raises the salaries of members from $1000 to $1500, an increase of 50 per cent, and is retroactive. It is necessary to decide whether the Commonwealth can well afford this additional tax and whether any public benefit would accrue from it.

These are times that require careful scrutiny of public expenditure. The burden of taxes resultant from war is heavy. The addition of $142,000 to the expenses of the Commonwealth in perpetuity is not to be undertaken but upon proven necessity. Service in the General Court is not obligatory but optional. It is not to be undertaken as a profession or a means of livelihood. It is a voluntary public service. In accord with the principles of our democratic institutions a compensation has been given in order that talent for service rather than the possession of property might be the standard of membership. There is no man of sufficient talent in the Commonwealth so poor that he cannot serve for a session, which averages about five months, and five days each week, at a salary of $1,000 and a travel allowance of $2.50 for each mile between his home and the State House. This is too clear for argument. There is no need to consider those who are too rich to serve for this sum. It would be futile to discuss whether the services are worth more or less than this, as that is not here the question. Membership in the General Court is not a job. There are services rendered to the Commonwealth by Senators and Representatives that are priceless. For the searching out of great principles on which legislation is based there is no adequate compensation. If value for services were the criterion, there would be two hundred and eighty different salaries. When membership is sought as a means of livelihood, legislation will pass from a public function to a private enterprise. Men do not serve here for pay. They seek work and places of responsibility and find in that seeking, not in their pay, their honor.

The realities of life are not measured by dollars and cents. The skill of the physician, the divine eloquence of the clergyman, the courage of the soldier, that which we call character in all men, are not matters of hire and salary. No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave. Public acclaim and the ceremonious recognition paid to returning heroes are not on account of their government pay but of the service and sacrifice they gave their country. The place each member of the General Court will hold in the estimation of his constituents will never depend on his salary but on the ability and integrity with which he does his duty; not on what he receives but on what he gives; and only out of the bountifulness of his own giving will his constituents raise him to power. Not by indulging himself but by denying himself will he reach success.

It is because the General Court has recognized these principles in its past history that it has secured its high place as a legislative body. This act disregards all this and will ever appear to be an undertaking by members to raise their own salaries. The fact that many were thinking of the needs of others will remain unknown. Appearances cannot be disregarded. Those in whom is placed the solemn duty of caring for others ought to think of themselves last or their decisions will lack authority. There is apparent a disposition to deny the disinterestedness and impartiality of government. Such charges are the result of ignorance and an evil desire to destroy our institutions for personal profit. It is of infinite importance to demonstrate that legislation is used not for the benefit of the legislator but of the public.

The General Court of Massachusetts is a legislative body noted for its fairness and ability. It has no superior. Its critics have for the most part come from the outside and have most frequently been those who have approached it with the purpose of securing selfish desires of their clients or themselves. A long familiarity with it increases respect for it. It is charged with expressing the abiding convictions and conscience of the people of the Commonwealth. The most solemn obligation placed by the Constitution on the executive is the power to veto its actions. In all matters affecting it the General Court is entitled to his best judgment and carefully considered opinion.

Anything less would be a mark of disrespect and disloyalty to its members. That judgment and opinion, arrived at after a wide counsel with members and others, is here expressed, in the light of an obligation which is not personal, "faithfully and impartially to discharge and perform" the duties of a public office.

Message from His Excellency the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, June 13, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Message from the Governor,
— Special commission to investigate prices of
of life.

Owing to war conditions prices of the necessities of life are very considerably increased. In some cases prices have receded since the signing of the armistice; in others they appear to have increased. The ordinary consumer is interested and affected by retail prices. Except as these prices reflect prices at wholesale, he is uninterested in wholesale prices. While there is very little constitutional authority for the fixing of prices by law, it is of the utmost consequence that the public know that charges are reasonable. All kinds of wages have been increased and these of course are reflected in the increased cost of materials. The public know this and expect to pay these necessary increases. They ought to be informed as to whether prices in general are fair and reasonable. If they are, they are willing to pay them; if they are not, a public recognition of that condition will tend to adjust prices to a reasonable basis. There is constitutional authority for investigating and reporting on this most important condition. Government fails as an administrator of justice if it permits to go unchallenged an exorbitant charge upon the public.

It is therefore recommended that a special commission, consisting of the Attorney-General, the Supervisor of Administration, the Commissioner of Standards and two other persons to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, — be authorized to investigate and report its findings to the next General Court, and so much thereof as in its opinion would be for the public benefit from time to time meanwhile, by filing a copy thereof in the office of the clerk of the Senate; with authority to make expenditures of money in the conduct of its investigation.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 600) was read and was referred to the committee on Reconstruction.

Sent down for concurrence.

Opinions of Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The following communication was received from the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, to wit:—

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

We, the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, have considered the questions upon which our opinion is required by the order of June 16, 1919, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and respectfully submit this opinion.

Opinion of Justices of the Supreme
Judicial Court,
— constitutionality of bill-board
advertising legislation.

Article L of the Amendments to the Constitution is in these words: "Advertising on public ways, in public places and on private property within public view may be regulated and restricted by law." The words "regulated and restricted" do not confer power to prohibit utterly and without bound but only to establish reasonable limitations. This is the significance of the words of Amendment L in the light of its history, whatever may be the meaning of power "to regulate" in other connections. See Gibbons v. Odgen, 9 Wheat. 1, 189-193.

The precise phrase of Amendment L is followed in the crucial parts of House Bill No. 629 and House Bill No. 1062. They violate no other provisions of the Constitution. It is within the power of the General Court to authorize the enactment of ordinances or by-laws by cities and towns respecting matters of special and local interest. Commonwealth v. Slocum, 230 Mass. 180, 190. As we construe the meaning of Article L there is at any rate nothing contrary to the Constitution of the United States in these two bills. St. Louis Poster Advertising Co. v. St. Louis, 249 U. S. 39 Sup. Ct. Rep. 274. Whether limitations imposed pursuant to House Bill No. 629 and House Bill No. 1062 would be repugnant to the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution is a question which does not arise until particular limitations have been enacted. Neither of these bills, if enacted, would be unconstitutional.

For the same reasons section one of House Bill No. 835 is not contrary to the Constitution. But the remaining sections of that bill are not in accordance with the Constitution. That bill is in substance an attempt to exercise the power of raising revenue by levying "a special betterment tax." The provisions of that bill do not constitute a betterment and cannot be the basis for assessing a betterment tax.

Section one of House Bill No. 1063, which is a definition of bill-board, sign or sign-board, is not unconstitutional. The second section of that bill vests an absolutely unrestricted power in the untrammelled discretion of boards of aldermen and selectmen as to the granting and refusal of licenses for the erection or placing of any bill-board, sign or sign-board as defined in section one. It includes all land within the Commonwealth whether "within public view" or not. It does not come within the terms of Article L of the Amendments or of other provisions of the Constitution. The remaining sections are ancillary to section two and fall with it. With the exception of section one, that bill, if enacted, would be unconstitutional.

Senate Bill No. 227 manifestly does not rest upon those provisions of Article L of the Amendments which relate to advertising on public ways and in public places, but upon that concerning advertising "on private property within public view." That bill prohibits entirely "advertising signs and devices within three hundred feet of a public building, public memorial, public way, park, playground or other public property," except such as refer to a business conducted within the building on which the advertising sign or device is placed. It is apparent that such prohibition includes advertising signs or devices hidden from public view by intervening obstructions and is not confined to those "within the public view." Legislation of that nature would be beyond the plain scope of the amendment and hence unconstitutional. This consideration disposes of that bill. Other questions which might arise if it were not open to this fatal objection need not be discussed.

WILLIAM CALEB LORING.
HENRY K. BRALEY.
CHARLES A. DECOURCY.
JOHN C. CROSBY.

The communication was read and ordered to be printed (Senate, No. 623), and was referred to the committee on Legal Affairs.

Sent down for concurrence in the reference.

Message from His Excellency the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, June 27, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Message from
the Governor,
— State manager of street railway companies.

The situation in relation to the street railways of Massachusetts, as pointed out in the inaugural address, is one of great difficulty. Some of them are not earning enough money to meet their expenditures. This can only have one result if continued, — that is the suspension of operations. In many localities the operation of street railways is a public necessity. It would be a great public inconvenience if, on account of conditions which it is trusted may be temporary, street railways should cease to operate or if their operation should be greatly impaired. This is a condition which exists all over the Nation and investigation has been undertaken by the Federal authorities. It is hoped that it will be temporary. It is, however, very desirable that some emergency legislation should be provided which could be put into operation if the contingency arises.

It is therefore recommended that provision be made for the temporary operation of a street railway by a public manager so that such street railway may be under the exclusive control of public officers and public agents, with authority to fix fares subject to revision by the Public Service Commission; and that temporarily for the public convenience in order to operate street railways hereafter placed under such control, provision be made for extending the credit of the Commonwealth and of the cities and towns in which such street railways operate. Such management should be approved and supervised by the Public Service Commission, and public credit should be extended only so far as is necessary to keep the roads in operation by taking care of valid operating deficits, for a limited period in any event and only so far as existing necessities require, without in any way impairing or restricting a further and different action in the future, or imposing in any event an undue burden upon the taxpayers.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 630) was read and was referred to the committee on Street Railways.

Sent down for concurrence.

Bill Recalled from the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Gifford (the time within which reconsideration may be moved having expired), it was voted that a message be sent to His Excellency the Governor requesting the return to the Senate of the engrossed Bill to provide suitable recognition of those residents of Massachusetts who served in the army and navy of the United States during the war with Germany (see House, No. 1803, amended) (as engrossed, see Senate, No. 631). Soldiers and sailors, — suitable recognition.

Mr. Gifford was appointed the messenger. Subsequently, the bill was returned and was laid before the Senate. There being no objection, on motion of the same Senator, the Senate reconsidered the vote by which, at the preceding session, it had passed the bill to be enacted.

Pending the recurring question on passing the bill to be enacted, it was laid on the table, on further motion of Mr. Gifford. Subsequently, by a vote of 15 to 6, the bill was taken from the table, on motion of the same Senator.

Mr. Reed moved that the further consideration thereof be postponed until the next session.

At five minutes before two o'clock P.M., Mr. Weston moved that the Senate adjourn; and this motion was negatived, by a vote of 8 to 15.

At six minutes past two o'clock P.M., Mr. McLane moved that the Senate take a recess for fifteen minutes; and this motion was negatived, by a vote of 9 to 13.

At seven minutes past two o'clock P.M., Mr. Reed moved that the Senate adjourn; and this motion was negatived, by a vote of 7 to 17.

At nine minutes past two o'clock P.M., Mr. Winchester moved that the Senate take a recess for five minutes; and this motion was negatived.

The first motion of Mr. Reed prevailed; and, accordingly, the further consideration of the bill was postponed until the next session.

Communication from the Attorney-General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney-General, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
BOSTON, June 28, 1919.

Hon. EDWIN T. MCKNIGHT, President of the Senate.

Attorney-
General, — opinion relative to limitations in construction and use of buildings.

DEAR SIR: — I beg to acknowledge an order from the Honorable Senate in the following form:

"Ordered, That the Senate request the opinion of the Attorney-General on the question whether Article LX of the Amendments to the Constitution empowers the General Court to authorize cities and towns to limit buildings according to their use and construction to specified districts thereof, and more especially whether House Bill No. 635 would be constitutional if enacted into law."

Article LX of the Amendments to the Constitution provides as follows:

"The General Court shall have power to limit buildings according to their use or construction to specified districts of cities and towns."

House Bill No. 635 is entitled "An Act to authorize cities and towns to limit buildings according to their use or construction." Its essential provision is as follows:

"SECTION 1. A city or town may by ordinances or by-laws not inconsistent with law and applicable throughout the whole or any defined part of its territory limit buildings according to their use or construction except such as are owned or occupied by the United States or by the Commonwealth and may prescribe penalties not exceeding one hundred dollars for each violation of such ordinances or by-laws."

The phraseology of this section seems somewhat incomplete, in that it does not clearly state the nature of the limitation which is to be imposed upon "buildings according to their use or construction." I assume that the purpose of the bill is merely to authorize cities and towns "to limit buildings according to their use or construction" to specified districts thereof.

This bill of itself imposes no limitation whatever upon the use or construction of buildings in any specified district of any city or town. It in no way establishes any general principle to be applied in imposing limitations of this character. It is merely a complete delegation to each of the cities and towns within the Commonwealth of the entire power granted to the General Court by Article LX of the Amendments. Thus, the sole question presented by the order is whether such a delegation of legislative power is authorized by the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

The principles of law applicable to the determination of such a question were clearly stated by the Supreme Judicial Court in Brodhine v. Revere, 182 Mass. 598, 600.

"It is well established in this Commonwealth and elsewhere, that the Legislature cannot delegate the general power to make laws, conferred upon it by a Constitution like that of Massachusetts. Opinion of the Justices, 160 Mass. 589. Larum v. Olin, 160 Mass. 102. Stone v. Charlestown, 114 Mass. 214. State v. Hayes, 61 N. H. 264. Barto v. Himrod, 4 Seld. 483. Gloversville v. Howell, 70 N. Y. 287. Locke's appeal, 72 Penn. St. 491. State v. Morris County, 7 Vroom, 72. Harbor Commissioners v. Excelsior Redwood Co., 88 Cal. 491. People v. Hurlbut, 24 Mich. 44. This doctrine is held by the courts almost universally.

There is a well known exception to it, resting upon conditions existing from ancient times in most of the older States of the Union, which the Constitutions of the States generally recognize, namely, the existence of town or other local governmental organizations which have always been accustomed to exercise self-government in regard to local police regulations and other matters affecting peculiarly the interests of their own inhabitants. On this account the determination of matters of this kind has been held to be a proper exercise of local self-government which the Legislature may commit to a city or town. Commonwealth v. Bennett, 108 Mass. 27. Stone v. Charlestown, 114 Mass. 214. Opinion of the Justices, 160 Mass. 586, 589. People v. Albertson, 55 N. Y. 50. Gloversville v. Howell, 70 N. Y. 287. State v. Morris County, 7 Vroom, 72."

In my judgment, the proposed bill does not deal merely with local police regulations or other matters affecting peculiarly the interests of the inhabitants of the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth. It rather purports to delegate the whole power and duty to determine what restrictions shall be placed upon the use and construction of buildings in specified districts without establishing any general policy whatever as to the purposes of such regulation or the standard to be applied in connection therewith. The legislation authorized by this amendment was obviously intended to be something more than police regulations in the interests of the public health, safety or morals. The amendment was entirely unnecessary to authorize such regulations. The determination of the question as to how far legislative power under this amendment can or should be exercised presents grave questions both of constitutional power, in view of the provisions of the Federal Constitution, and of legislative policy. Are certain kinds of business to be restricted to specified districts? Are manufacturing and mercantile buildings and, perhaps, even apartment-houses, to be excluded entirely from specified districts? Is the character or construction of buildings, even of those devoted merely to residential purposes, to be regulated as to their height, size, location with reference to public highways or to other buildings or as to their artistic or architectural qualities? All these matters so far as they are permissible matters of legislation under this amendment are left by the proposed bill entirely to the determination of cities and towns. Such general considerations of policy in a new field of legislation cannot, in my judgment, be said to be mere matters of local self-government.

Of course, the acceptance or rejection of a general scheme of regulation may often be left to individual municipalities. This is merely leaving to the local community the determination of the question whether the conditions there existing make it desirable to put in force therein a definite regulation. Then, too, the fitting of the administrative details of such a regulation into the particular conditions of a given community may be left to local authorities or to general administrative boards. Doubtless much could be left to local determination in this manner in definite legislation enacted under this amendment, but this subject need not now be discussed, since nothing of that sort is attempted by the bill under consideration.

Accordingly, I must advise you that, in my judgment, the General Court cannot completely delegate to cities and towns the powers granted to it by Article LX of the Amendments to the Constitution and that House Bill No. 635 would be unconstitutional if enacted into law.

Yours very truly,
 HENRY C. ATTWILL,
Attorney-General.

The communication was read, was ordered to be printed (see Senate, No. 632), and was placed on file.

"An incident which occurred last week has been so reported and commented upon by the Press as to place the Massachusetts Senate and some of its members, and particularly its President, in a wrong position.

"It would appear from the newspaper reports that the order introduced into the Senate inviting the distinguished Eamonn de Valera to address the Senate was similar to the order that was adopted by the House of Representatives. The order which was read in the Senate was so worded according to the understanding of many of the Senators that it was a virtual recognition by the Senate of the Irish Republic and Eamonn de Valera, as President, while the order adopted by the House was merely an invitation for the distinguished visitor to visit and address the House.

"Had an order similar to that which was adopted by the House been presented in the Senate the President of the Senate would not have objected to it.

"The Senate recognized the distinguished visitor who came representing the Irish Cause by formally accepting the invitation of the House to join with it in receiving him, and proceeded officially under the escort of the Sergeant-at-Arms to the House of Representatives where the Senate united with the House in extending a cordial greeting to the distinguished visitor."

Senator
Walsh.

Mr. Walsh of Suffolk, rising to a question of privilege, said:—

"Mr. President, I am glad that this matter comes before us in such a way that we can correct a wrong impression and prevent injustice being done to any one. As I was born in Ireland and am proud of that heritage, as well as of my American citizenship, I should be the first to resent any word or action which might be construed into hostility to the demands of the Irish people or of any people for the right to determine their own form of self-government. To me the Irish Republic is a fact. It exists in the hearts and sentiments of all true Irishmen. Eamonn de Valera is its real president. He is the chosen leader of the great majority of the Irish people, and he represents also the aspirations of millions of Irish blood throughout the world. I think the recognition of the Irish Republic in the nature of things is inevitable, and I think the day is at hand when we shall have the great privilege here and everywhere of acclaiming it as a reality; but unhappily it is not yet recognized by the American Nation, and the recognition of new states is a matter of national concern and is not the business or privilege of any state.

"As I heard read the order introduced in the chamber last Friday, I understood it, as did the Honorable Senator from Middlesex, as involving a recognition of the Irish Republic, — a thing which is not within the power of this legislative chamber to do. I am quite sure that the language of the order introduced in this chamber was not identical with that which I afterwards saw published as the order passed by the House. I am likewise sure that other Senators of Irish blood who were present, understood the order as involving a recognition of the Irish Republic. They, like myself, would not support an improper order and, further, would have been prompt to resent the rejection of any order the limit of which was to do honor merely to the distinguished visitor, who is accepted by the majority of the Irish people as its president. And certainly, also, I am disinclined to be among those who will permit an unjust attack upon the President of this body, when I know from my private knowledge of the man that such an attack is unwarranted and utterly repugnant to all that I know about him in his private life.

"It seemed to me at the time the order was presented that the Honorable Senator from Suffolk, who stood sponsor for it, was acting with the finest intentions in the world but that he had been misinformed as to the procedure which would have been proper under the circumstances.

"I feel that under the peculiar circumstances of the case the President of this chamber acted within his rights as the presiding officer of an American legislative assembly bound by rules of order."

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 5, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Under the authority of the Constitution a bill entitled “An ^{Industrial} Act Relative to the Salaries of the Members, Secretary and ^{Accident} Medical Advisers of the Industrial Accident Board,” being ^{Board:} House No. 1849, is herewith returned with a recommendation ^{salaries.} for amendment, as follows: —

SECTION 3. From and after the expiration of the term of the first retiring member of said board, the board shall consist of six members. In case of a resignation or other vacancy in the meantime such vacancy shall not be filled.

After investigation of the work of the board and the increased facilities for the transaction of business since the use of arbitrators has been abolished, it is apparent that six members giving their full time as is required by the bill, will be sufficient to transact speedily and properly the work of the board. This plan will lead to increased efficiency and leave the expense to be borne by the Commonwealth about the same as it is at present.

Bill Returned by the Governor with His Objections.

Veto. — highway between Belchertown
and Amherst.

The engrossed Bill to provide for the improvement of the highway between the towns of Belchertown and Amherst (which originated in the Senate) (see Senate, No. 513), — which, on July 3, had been laid before the Governor for his approbation, and which, previously to the meeting of the Senate, had been returned by His Excellency to the Clerk together with his objections thereto in writing, — was laid before the Senate.

The message was as follows: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 8, 1919.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

A bill entitled: "An Act to Provide for the Improvement of the Highway between the Towns of Belchertown and Amherst", being Senate, No. 513, is herewith returned under the provisions of the Constitution, without approval.

It is known from personal observation that the object of this bill is desirable so that the question arises as to the necessity of legislation for securing the proposed result. The Highway Commission reports that it is ready at any time to coöperate with the county on the basis mentioned in the proposed bill, of having 75 per cent of the cost of construction paid by the Commonwealth and 25 per cent paid by the county. It cannot be learned that the County Commissioners of Hampshire are opposed to taking such action themselves.

There is the broader question of policy as to the desirability of directing the Highway Commission as to the expenditure of money provided by Item No. 336. Much of that money is needed for general repairs and reconstruction. If it be taken for other purposes by this measure and others, it will be necessary to increase the appropriations for the present year beyond what can be conveniently borne. It is therefore the better policy for the commission to make such expenditures as it can for this item without being too much hampered by directions expressed by law.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

The message (see Senate, No. 640) was read and the Senate proceeded to reconsider the bill, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution; and, pending the question on passing the bill, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, the further consideration thereof was postponed until the next session, on motion of Mr. Hardy of Berkshire, Hampshire and Hampden.

Communication from the Attorney-General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney-General, to wit: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
BOSTON, July 16, 1919.

Hon. EDWIN T. McKNIGHT, President of the Senate.

Attorney-
General, — opinion relative to method of fixing wages of fishermen.

DEAR SIR: — I am in receipt of a copy of an order adopted by the Honorable Senate on the 9th inst., of the following tenor: —

“Ordered, That the Senate request the opinion of the Attorney-General on the following question of law: —

Would it be contrary to the laws of the United States or of this Commonwealth for a combination of fishermen to enter into an agreement with dealers purchasing their product fixing minimum prices for such product as a method of fixing the wages of such fishermen?”

The order does not state to whom the product upon which the price is to be fixed belongs, but apparently it is assumed to belong to the fishermen. Upon this assumption it is not possible for me to give an opinion, for the reason that the answer would depend upon facts which are not stated. For example, whether the purpose of the combination of fishermen and dealers is to advance the price of fish, or whether the combination would be of such size as to give substantial price-making power.

I apprehend, however, that the purpose of the Honorable Senate in passing the order was to obtain an opinion which would be applicable to the situation in the fish industry in this Commonwealth, and therefore submit the following answer.

It is my understanding that the fishermen employed on vessels landing fish at Boston and other points in this Commonwealth are in general paid an amount equal to a certain proportionate part of the proceeds of the cargo, the proportion varying from 7-1000, in the case of a fisherman on a steam trawler, to a much larger percentage in the case of fishermen employed on sailing vessels, the variation being due principally to the fact that the trawler fishermen receive a definite salary in addition to their share in the proceeds.

As a general rule, the fish caught does not belong to the fishermen. While the pay received by the fisherman depends, at least in part, upon the value of the cargo, he cannot be considered the owner of such cargo, but still remains an employee. Baxter v. Rodman, 3 Pick. 435. Cambra v. Santos, decided May 24, 1919.

In this situation it is difficult to see how the fishermen may, by arrangement with dealers to whom the fish may be sold, fix a minimum price thereon, when, as above pointed out, the fish is not owned by them.

It is too well recognized to require the citation of authorities that employees have a right, both under the laws of this Commonwealth and of the United States, to combine and contract with their employer as to what wages they shall receive.

This right on the part of the employees, however, does not include the right to dictate to their employer as to the manner and terms upon which the product of the employees' labor shall be sold, and a combination to effect this, in my judgment, would be an unlawful combination. While it is true that combinations of workmen by collectively bargaining as to the wages they shall receive necessarily affect the price of the product of their labor, this is an incident necessarily flowing from the exercise of this right. When, however, a combination of workmen, under the guise of collective bargaining as to wages, attempts to fix the price at which the product of their labor shall be sold by their employer, they exceed their lawful rights, and the combination becomes unlawful. And I think it is equally plain that it is unlawful for such a combination to enter into agreements with the purchasers of the product, by which it is agreed that the product shall be bought only on certain terms.

I do not mean to intimate that I am of the opinion that an agreement may not legally be effected between the fishermen and their employer by which the wages to be paid are fixed upon the basis that the fish caught is of a certain minimum value.

Assuming, therefore, that the facts are as I understand them, your question is to be answered in the affirmative.

Very truly yours,

HENRY C. ATTWILL,
Attorney-General.

The communication was read, was ordered to be printed (see Senate, No. 659), and was placed on file.

Numbers enclosed in parentheses following each rule indicate the corresponding House rule.]

7. The Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed each day a calendar of matters in order for consideration; a list of matters lying on the table; and such other memoranda as he may deem necessary, and as the Senate or the President may direct. (13.) [1882; 1888.]

8. The Clerk shall retain bills and other papers, in reference to which any member has a right to move a reconsideration (except petitions, bills and resolves introduced on leave, orders of inquiry, orders of notice, reports of committees asking to be discharged from the further consideration of a subject, and engrossed bills and resolves), until the right of reconsideration has expired. (15, 57.) [1855; 1856; 1875; 1882; 1885; 1888; 1891; 1919.]

9. When a bill or resolve coming from the other branch does not appear in print in the form in which it was passed in that branch, the Clerk shall either indicate the amendments on the Orders of the Day, or shall have the bill or resolve reprinted, at his discretion. [1882.]

MEMBERS OF THE SENATE.

10. No member shall be permitted to act on a committee or to vote upon a question in which his private right, distinct from the public interest, is immediately concerned. (24, 63.) [1855; 1888; 1889.]

11. No member shall absent himself from the Senate without leave, unless there is a quorum without his presence. (17.) [1817.]

COMMITTEES.

12. The following standing committees shall be appointed at the beginning of the political year, to wit:—

A committee on the Judiciary;

A committee on Ways and Means;

Each to consist of five members.

A committee on Bills in the Third Reading;

A committee on Engrossed Bills;

Each to consist of three members.

A committee on Rules;

To consist of the President and four members. (20.)

[1831; 1836; 1840; 1844; 1847; 1863; 1864; 1870; 1876; 1882; 1885; 1886; 1888; 1891; 1896; 1897.]

13. Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless the Senate shall otherwise specially order, and the member first named upon a committee shall be its chairman. In case of the election of a committee by ballot, the member having the highest number of votes shall act as chairman. (21, 22.)

[1817; between 1821 and 1826; 1831; 1888.]

13A. All motions or orders authorizing committees of the Senate to travel or to employ stenographers, all propositions involving special investigations by committees of the Senate and all motions or orders providing that information be transmitted to the Senate shall be referred without debate to the committee on Rules, who, within fourteen days after such reference, shall report thereon, recommending what action should be taken. (104.)

[1904; 1913.]

14. No committee shall be allowed to occupy the Senate Chamber without a vote of the Senate. (100.)

[1836; 1863; 1888.]

15. No legislation affecting the rights of individuals or the rights of a private or municipal corporation, otherwise than as it affects generally the people of the whole Commonwealth or the people of the city or town to which it specifically applies, shall be proposed or introduced except by a petition, nor shall any bill or resolve embodying such legislation be reported by a committee, except upon a petition duly referred, nor shall such a bill or resolve be reported by a committee, whether on an original reference or on a recommittal with instructions to hear the parties, until it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the committee that proper notice of the proposed legislation has been given by public advertisement or otherwise to all parties interested, without expense to the Commonwealth, or until evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. A committee reporting leave to withdraw or reference to the next General Court for want of proper notice or of a waiver thereof shall set forth this fact in its report, and no bill or resolve shall be in order as a substitute for, or amendment of, such report. Objection to the violation of this rule may be taken at any stage prior to that of the third reading. (31.)

[1870; 1871; 1885; 1890.]

16. When the object of an application, whether by petition, or bill or resolve introduced on leave, can be secured under existing laws, or, without detriment to the public interests, by a general law, the committee to whom the matter is referred shall report leave to withdraw, ought not to pass, or a general law, as the case may be. (30.)

[1882; 1885; 1888; 1891; 1893.]

FORM OF BILLS AND RESOLVES.

17. Bills and resolves shall be presented in a legible form without material erasures or interlineations, on not less than one sheet of paper, with suitable margins and spaces between the several sections or resolves, and dates and numbers shall be written in words at length. Bills amending existing laws shall not provide for striking words from, or inserting words in, such laws, unless such course is the best calculated to show clearly the subject and nature of the amendment. No repealed law and no law which has expired by limitation, and no part of any such law, shall be re-enacted by reference merely. (42.)

[1844; 1857; 1880; 1882; 1885; 1888; 1889.]

INTRODUCTION OF BUSINESS.

18. Every member presenting a petition, memorial, or remonstrance, shall endorse his name thereon, and a brief statement of the nature and object of the instrument; and the reading of the instrument shall be dispensed with, unless specially ordered.

(37.) [1831; 1888.]

19. All motions contemplating legislation shall be founded upon petition or upon bill or resolve proposed to be introduced on leave. Committees to whom messages from the Governor, reports of State officers, boards, commissions, and others authorized to report to the Legislature shall be referred, may report by bill or otherwise such legislation as may be germane to the subject-matter referred to them. (40.)

[1858; 1888; 1891; 1893.]

20. All bills and resolves for introduction on leave, resolutions, and petitions for legislation accompanied by bills or resolves embodying the subject-matter prayed for, and all orders of inquiry, which are intended for presentation or introduction to the Senate, and all reports of State officers, shall first be deposited with the Clerk, and, prior to their presentation or introduction, shall be submitted by him to the committee on Rules for inspection. The committee shall examine the same for the purpose of ascertaining (1) whether the legislation proposed is plainly and specifically stated or already provided for; (2) whether such bills, resolves, resolutions, petitions and orders are in proper form; and (3) that compliance has been had with the rules of the Senate and the joint rules of the two branches. Every such matter shall be returned by the committee on Rules to the Clerk not later than the third legislative day succeeding the day of its deposit with him, unless consent in writing to the longer detention thereof is filed with the Clerk by the member presenting the matter, and, unless withdrawn by the member, it shall be by the Clerk submitted to the President and by him laid before the Senate not later than on the next legislative day after it is so returned. Bills, resolves and resolutions which have been laid before the Senate and introduced shall be read, and shall be, by the President, with the consent of the Senate, referred to the appropriate committees. Prior to such reference, the President may, in his discretion, order bills and resolves, intended for introduction on leave or filed to accompany petitions, and resolutions, intended for introduction, to be printed; and when he so orders they shall, after they are introduced, be printed under the direction of the Clerk. They shall retain, during all subsequent stages, their original numbers and shall also bear such new numbers as may be necessary. Subject to the provisions of Rule No. 22, every petition which is not accompanied by a bill or resolve shall be deposited with the Clerk and be retained in his custody until a bill or resolve embodying the legislation prayed for shall be filed with him, when he shall present the same to the committee on Rules, to be disposed of as provided above. The Senate may at any time by order make any other disposition of petitions and remonstrances in the hands of the Clerk. Petitions and remonstrances relating to matters already sent to committees shall be by the President referred to the appropriate committees. (28.) [1891; 1893; 1894; 1916.]

21. The committee on Rules shall make no change in the substance or form of any matter referred to them in accordance with the preceding rule, without the consent of the member depositing the same, but upon the presentation or introduction of any such matter to the Senate it shall be the duty of some member of the committee on Rules, acting under the committee's instruction, to suggest any failure to comply with the rules, and to offer such amendment or propose such other action as is determined proper or necessary by the committee within the scope of its duties, as above set forth. If, upon such motion, before a petition is referred to a committee, the petitioner is given leave to withdraw because the petition is not in proper form, such action shall not be deemed to be a final rejection under Rule 54, and shall not prejudice the right of a member to present a petition for the same object conformably to the rules of the Senate and the joint rules of the two branches. [1893. — Partly embodied in Rule 20 of 1891.]

22. Any petition remaining in the hands of the Clerk subsequently to five o'clock in the afternoon of the second Saturday of the session, for the reason that no bill or resolve embodying the legislation prayed for has been presented, shall be forthwith submitted by him to the President, and by him, at the legislative session next succeeding, be referred to the next General Court. (29.) [1893; 1894; 1898; 1905; 1910.]

23. No bill or resolve shall be proposed or introduced unless received from the House of Representatives, reported by a committee, or moved as an amendment to the report of a committee, except that special leave may be granted to a member to introduce a bill or resolve, and such bill or resolve shall thereupon be referred to the proper committee for consideration and report. (47.) [1881; 1882; 1888.]

24. The consideration of any order proposed for adoption, or of any request for leave to introduce a bill or resolve, or of any motion to suspend Senate Rule 15, or joint rule 8, 9 or 12, shall be postponed without question to the day after that on which the order is proposed or request made, if any member asks such postponement. (41.) [1885; 1891.]

25. A petition for the incorporation of a town or city, or for the division of an existing town or city, or for the incorporation of a railroad, street railway, elevated railroad or canal company, or for the amendment, alteration or extension of the charter or corporate powers or privileges of any such company, either specially incorporated or organized under general laws, or for authority to take water for a water supply, or relative to building structures over navigable or tide waters, shall be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws or by other provisions of law. A petition for the incorporation of a college or university or other educational institution, with power to grant degrees, or for amendment of the charter of an existing educational institution so that the said institution, not having such power, shall thereafter have power to grant degrees, shall also be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws. But if, no objection being raised, any such petition is referred to a committee, without such required notice, the committee shall forthwith report reference to the next General Court, setting forth as the reason for such report failure to give the required notice, unless evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. In case a bill or resolve is reported by a committee upon such a petition, after proof of such waiver of notice, this fact shall be set forth in the report of the committee. When a report of reference to the next General Court is made by a committee on account of failure to give the required notice, no bill or resolve shall be substituted for such report, nor shall such report be recommitted or referred to another committee; but reference of the petition to the next General Court for want of proper notice under this rule shall not affect action upon any other measure involving the same subject-matter. (32.) [1890; 1891; 1898; 1903.] (See Rule 15.)

COURSE OF PROCEEDINGS.

26. Bills and resolves from the House, after they are read a first time, shall be referred to a committee of the Senate, unless they have been reported by a joint committee or substituted for the report of a joint committee. Bills and resolves reported in the Senate, and bills and resolves from the House reported by joint committees or substituted for the reports of joint committees, shall, after they have been read once, be placed in the Orders of the Day for the next day for a second reading without a question, except as otherwise provided by Rule 27. Resolutions received from the House, or introduced or reported in the Senate, shall be read and, pending the question on their adoption, shall be placed in the Orders of the Day for the next day. (45, 56.) [1825; 1885; 1888; 1890; 1891; 1897.]

27. Bills and resolves involving the expenditure of public money, or a grant of public property, unless the subject-matter has been acted upon by the joint committee on Ways and Means, shall, after the first reading, be referred in course to the Senate committee on Ways and Means, whose duty it shall be to report on their relation to the finances of the Commonwealth or of any county thereof. (44.)

[1871; 1882; 1887; 1888; 1889; 1896.]

28. No bill or resolve shall pass to be engrossed without three readings on three several days. (51.)

[1817; 1836; 1841; 1859; 1878; 1881; 1882; 1885.]

29. Bills and resolves, in their several readings, and resolutions, shall be read by their titles, unless objection is made. (48.)

[1817; 1836; 1841; 1859; 1878; 1881; 1882; 1885; 1890.]

30. If a committee to whom a bill or resolve is referred report that the same ought not to pass, the question shall be "Shall this bill (or resolve) be rejected?" and if such committee report recommending that the same be referred to the next General Court, the question shall be "Shall this bill (or resolve) be referred to the next General Court?" If the rejection or the recommendation of reference to the next General Court is negatived, the bill or resolve, if it has been read but once, shall go to its second reading without a question; and if it has been read more than once it shall be placed in the Orders of the Day for the next day, pending the question on ordering to a third reading, or engrossment, as the case may be. (43.)

[1817; 1836; 1841; 1859; 1878; 1881; 1882; 1885; 1897.]

31. If an amendment is made at the second or third reading of a bill or resolve, substantially changing the greater part thereof, the question shall not be put forthwith on ordering the bill or resolve to a third reading or to be engrossed, as the case may be, but the bill or resolve, as amended, shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which the amendment is made, and shall then be open to further amendment before such question is put. In like manner, when an amendment is made in any proposition of such a nature as to change its character, as from a bill to an order, or the like, the proposition as amended shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which the amendment was made. (62.)

[1882; 1888.]

32. Bills or resolves ordered to a third reading shall be placed in the Orders for the next day for such reading. (58.)

[1817; 1836; 1841; 1859; 1878; 1881; 1882; 1885.]

33. Bills and resolves when ordered to a third reading shall be referred to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading, whose duty it shall be to examine and correct them, for the purpose of avoiding repetitions and unconstitutional provisions, and of insuring accuracy in the text and references, and consistency with the language of existing statutes; but any change in the sense or legal effect, or any material change in construction, shall be reported to the Senate as an amendment. Resolutions received from the House or introduced or reported in the Senate shall, after they are read and before they are adopted, be referred, in like manner, to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading. When a bill, resolve or resolution has been so referred, no further action shall be taken until report thereon has been made by the committee. If a bill or resolve referred to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading contains an emergency preamble, or if it provides for the borrowing of money by the Commonwealth and comes within the provisions of section 3 of Article XLII of the Amendments of the Constitution, the committee shall plainly indicate the fact on the outside of the bill or resolve, or on a wrapper or label attached thereto. (26, 50.)

[1817; 1836; 1882; 1888; 1890; 1891; 1914; 1919.]

34. Engrossed bills and resolves shall be referred to the committee on Engrossed Bills, whose duty it shall be carefully to compare the same with the bills or resolves as passed to be engrossed; and, if found by them to be rightly and truly engrossed, they shall so endorse on the envelope thereof; and the question of enactment or final passage or of adopting an emergency preamble shall be taken thereon without further reading, unless specially ordered. When an engrossed bill or resolve contains an emergency preamble or when it provides for the borrowing of money by the Commonwealth and comes within the provisions of section 3 of Article XLII of the Amendments of the Constitution, the committee on Engrossed Bills shall plainly indicate the fact on the envelope thereof. (27, 52, 54.)

[1817; 1831; 1882; 1888; 1914; 1919.]

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

35. The unfinished business in which the Senate was engaged at the time of the last adjournment shall have the preference in the Orders of the Day next after motions to reconsider. (60.)

[1830; 1870.]

36. Reports of committees not by bill or resolve shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which they are made to the Senate or received from the House, as the case may be; except that the report of a committee asking to be discharged from the further consideration of a subject, and recommending that it be referred to another committee, shall be immediately considered. Amendments to a measure, which have been made by the House and sent back to the Senate for concurrence, shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which they are received. Reports of committees on proposals for amendment of the Constitution shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of Joint Rule No. 23. (46, 57.)

[1845; 1853; 1888; 1891; 1919.]

37. After entering upon the consideration of the Orders of the Day, the Senate shall proceed with them in regular course, as follows: Matters not giving rise to a motion or debate shall first be disposed of in the order in which they stand in the calendar; then the matters that were passed over shall be considered and disposed of in like order. (59.)

[1817; 1836; 1841; 1859; 1878; 1882; 1885.]

38. No matter which has been duly placed in the Orders of the Day shall be discharged therefrom or considered out of its regular course. (61.) [1885.]

RULES OF DEBATE.

39. Every member, when he speaks, shall stand in his place and address the President. (73.) [1817; 1831; 1871.]

40. When two or more members rise to speak at the same time, the President shall designate the member who is entitled to the floor. (74.) [1831; 1888.]

41. No member shall speak more than once to the prevention of any other member who has not spoken and desires to speak on the same question. (76.) [1817; 1886.]

42. No member shall interrupt another while speaking, except by rising to call to order. (75.) [1817; 1831.]

43. After a question is put to vote no member shall speak to it. [1817.]

MOTIONS.

44. Any motion shall be reduced to writing, if the President so directs. A motion need not be seconded and may be withdrawn by the mover if no objection is made. (77, 78.) [1817; 1844; 1871; 1888.]

45. A question containing two or more propositions, capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any member. When a motion to strike out and insert is thus divided, the failure of the motion to strike out shall not preclude amendment; or, if the motion to strike out prevails, the matter proposed to be inserted shall be open to amendment before the question is taken on inserting it. (91.) [1817; 1841; 1888.]

46. When a question is under debate the President shall receive no motion that does not relate to the same, except a motion to adjourn or some other motion which has precedence by express rule of the Senate, or because it is privileged in its nature; and he shall receive no motion relating to the same except:—

- (1) To lay on the table;
- (2) To close debate at a specified time;
- (3) To postpone to a day certain;
- (4) To commit (or recommit);
- (5) To amend;
- (6) To refer to the next General Court; or
- (7) To postpone indefinitely.

These motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand. (80.)

[Between 1821 and 1826; 1831; 1844; 1870; 1882; 1885; 1888.]

47. Debate may be closed at any time not less than one hour from the adoption of a motion to that effect. On this motion not more than ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and no member shall speak more than three minutes. (85.) [1882.]

48. When motions are made to refer a subject to different committees, the committees proposed shall be considered in the following order: —

- (1) A standing committee of the Senate;
- (2) A special committee of the Senate;
- (3) A joint standing committee of the two branches;
- (4) A joint special committee of the two branches. (88.)
[1884; 1888.]

49. No engrossed bill or resolve shall be amended; but this rule shall not apply to a bill or resolve returned by the Governor with a recommendation of amendment in accordance with the provisions of Article LVI of the Amendments of the Constitution. (53.) [1837; 1919.]

50. No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under the color of an amendment. (90.) [1882.]

51. In filling blanks the largest sum and longest time shall be put first. (87, 92.) [1882.]

52. The motion to adjourn, and the call for yeas and nays, shall be decided without debate. On the motions to lay on the table and take from the table, to commit or recommit (except with instructions), not exceeding ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and no member shall speak more than three minutes. (69, 79.) [1817; 1859; 1870; 1874; 1882; 1885.]

RECONSIDERATION.

53. No motion to reconsider a vote shall be entertained unless it is made on the same day on which the vote has passed, or on the next day thereafter on which a quorum is present and before the Orders of the Day for that day have been taken up. If reconsideration is moved on the same day, the motion shall be placed first in the Orders of the Day for the succeeding day; but, if it is moved on the succeeding day, the motion shall be considered forthwith: provided, however, that this rule shall not prevent the reconsideration of a vote on a subsidiary, incidental or dependent question at any time when the main question to which it relates is under consideration; and provided, further, that a motion to reconsider a vote on any incidental, subsidiary or dependent question shall not remove the main subject under consideration from before the Senate, but shall be considered at the time when it is made. There shall be no reconsideration of the vote on the question on adjourning, for the yeas and nays, on laying on the table or on taking from the table; and when a motion for reconsideration has been decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered. (70, 71.)

[1817; between 1821 and 1826; 1858; 1885; 1888; 1891; 1902.]

REJECTED MEASURES.

54. When any measure has been finally rejected, no measure substantially the same shall be introduced by any committee or member during the session. (49.)

[1817; dispensed with in 1831, and revived in 1838; amended in 1841; 1844; 1877; 1882.]

VOTING.

55. The President shall declare all votes; but if a member doubts a vote, the President shall order a return of the number voting in the affirmative, and in the negative, without further debate. (3, 66.) [1831; 1888.]

56. When a member moves that a question be taken by yeas and nays, the President shall take the sense of the Senate in that manner, provided one-fifth of the members present so direct. If, before the question is taken, a member states to the Senate that he has paired with another member and how each would vote on the pending question, the fact shall be entered on the journal immediately after the record of the yeas and nays, and such member shall be excused from voting. (68.)

[1817; 1852; 1888.]

57. Whenever a question is taken by yeas and nays, the Clerk shall call the names of all the members, except the President, in alphabetical order, and every member present shall answer to his name, unless excused before the vote is taken; and no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced from the chair. (64, 68.) [1837; 1844.]

ELECTIONS BY BALLOT.

58. In all elections by ballot a time shall be assigned for such election, at least one day previous thereto, except in case of an election of President or President pro tempore, under the provisions of Rule 5. (96.) [1831; 1891.]

REPORTERS' GALLERY.

59. Subject to the approval and direction of the committee on Rules during the session and of the President after prorogation, the use of the reporters' gallery of the Senate Chamber shall be under the control of the organization of legislative reporters known as the Massachusetts State House Press Association. Except in the employ of the newspaper or publication which he represents as a legislative reporter, no person who is entitled to the privileges of the reporters' gallery shall seek to influence the action of the Senate or any member thereof, nor shall such person approach a member to seek to influence him in any place from which legislative agents are excluded by Rule 61. (100.) [1847; 1911; 1914.]

THE SENATE CHAMBER AND ADJOINING ROOMS.

60. No person not a member shall be allowed to sit at the Senate table while the Senate is in session. (99.) [1853; 1888.]

61. No person, except members of the legislative and executive departments of the State government, persons in the exercise of an official duty directly connected with the business of the Senate, and legislative reporters who are entitled to the privileges of the reporters' gallery, shall, unless invited by the President, be admitted to the floor of the Senate Chamber, or to the reception room or to the corridor between the reception room and the Senate Chamber, during the sessions of the Senate, or during the half hour preceding or succeeding said sessions, nor to the Senate reading room, cloak room corridor, cloak room or anterooms on any day when a session of the Senate is held, except upon written invitation bearing the name of the person it is desired to invite and the name of the Senator extending the invitation, which invitation shall be surrendered when the said person enters the apartment. No legislative counsel or agent shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate Chamber, nor, on any day when a session of the Senate is held, to the reading room, the cloak room, the reception room or the Senate corridors or anterooms. No person, except members of the legislative and executive departments of the State government, persons in the exercise of an official duty directly connected with the business of the Senate, and legislative reporters who are entitled to the privileges of the reporters' gallery, shall be permitted to loiter in the reading room, the cloak room, the reception room or the Senate corridors or anterooms at any time. Smoking shall not be permitted in the reception room. (99.)

 PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE.

62. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in the revised edition of Crocker's Principles of Procedure in Deliberative Bodies, and the principles of parliamentary law set forth in Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies, shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the rules of the Senate, or the joint rules of the two branches. (101.)

[1847; 1858; 1882; 1895.]

 ALTERATIONS, SUSPENSION OR REPEAL OF RULES.

63. This rule and rules 24, 31, 33, 34 and 53 shall not be suspended if objection is made; rule 22 shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a vote of four-fifths of the members present and voting thereon; and no other rule shall be altered, suspended or repealed, except by vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting thereon. (103.)

Matters referred by either the Senate or the House to its committee on the Judiciary, on Ways and Means, or on Rules shall be considered by the respective committees of the two branches, acting as joint committees, when, in the judgment of the chairmen of the respective committees of the two branches, the interests of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served by such joint consideration. Matters may also be referred respectively to the committees on the Judiciary, on Ways and Means, and on Rules, of the two branches, as joint committees.

The committees on Rules, together with the presiding officers of the two branches, acting as a joint committee, may consider and suggest such measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to facilitate the business of the session. [Amended Jan. 6, 1882; Jan. 5, 1883; Jan. 7, 1884; Jan. 8, 1885; Jan. 26, 1885; Jan. 8, 1886; Jan. 12, 1887; Jan. 9, 1888; Jan. 28, 1889; Jan. 8, 1890; Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 11, 1892; Feb. 10, 1892; Feb. 7, 1893; Jan. 8, 1894; Jan. 7, 1895; Jan. 7, 1896; Jan. 11, 1897; Jan. 10, 1898; Jan. 9, 1899; Jan. 22 and Jan. 29, 1901; Jan. 6, 1902; Jan. 9, 1903; Jan. 8, 1904; Jan. 6, 1905; Jan. 4, 1907; Jan. 5, 1910; Jan. 4, 1911; Jan. 1, 1913; Jan. 12, 1914; Jan. 2, 1918; and Jan. 1 and 8, and Feb. 21, 1919.]

2. No member of either branch shall act as counsel for any party before any committee of the Legislature.

3. No committee of the Senate or the House shall travel unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the members of its branch present and voting. No joint committee shall travel unless authorized by a concurrent vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch present and voting. No committee shall travel except at the expense of the Commonwealth. In any case when a committee is authorized to travel, the Sergeant-at-Arms shall provide transportation only for members of the committee and the officer accompanying them, and the reasonable travelling expenses of such members and officers only shall be charged to or paid by the Commonwealth. Neither the Sergeant-at-Arms nor the officer detailed by him shall permit any person to accompany such committee while in the discharge of its official duties unless invited by vote of the committee.

All bills for the travelling expenses of committees shall, in such form and detail as may be prescribed by the Auditor of the Commonwealth, be submitted by the Sergeant-at-Arms to the committee by whom they have been incurred; and such bills, before they are presented to the Auditor of the Commonwealth, shall first be approved by a majority of the committee incurring them. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall procure from the Auditor and shall, on the first Monday in each month, transmit to the General Court in print a statement of all such bills which have been presented to the Auditor during the preceding month. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890. Amended Feb. 2, 1891, and Jan. 20, 1904.]

4. Joint committees may report by bill, resolve, or otherwise, to either branch, at their discretion, having reference to an equal distribution of business between the two branches, except that money bills shall be reported to the House; and except that when a report is made from any committee to either branch, and the subject-matter thereof is subsequently referred therein to a joint committee, such committee shall report its action to the branch in which the original report was made. [See also next rule.]

5. Reports of joint committees may be recommitted to the same committees at the pleasure of the branch first acting thereon, and bills or resolves may be recommitted in either branch, but no such recommitment shall be made after the fourth Wednesday in March. A concurrent vote shall, however, be necessary for the recommitment of such reports, bills, or resolves, with instructions. After recommitment, report shall, in all cases, be made to the branch originating the recommitment. [Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

6. Bills and resolves reported by joint committees shall be printed or fairly written in a legible hand, without material erasure or interlineation, and on not less than one sheet of paper, with suitable margins, and with spaces between the several sections. Dates and numbers shall be printed or written in words at length. [Amended Jan. 28, 1889.]

7. Whenever, upon any application for an act of incorporation or other legislation, the purpose for which such legislation is sought can be secured without detriment to the public interests by a general law or under existing laws, the committee to which the matter is referred shall report such general law, or "leave to withdraw," or "ought not to pass." [Amended Feb. 2, 1891, and Feb. 7, 1893.]

7A. A committee to which is referred a petition for legislation to authorize a city or town to reinstate in its service a person formerly employed by it shall report thereon leave to withdraw unless the person seeking to be reinstated has first petitioned the local police, district or municipal court for a review, as provided by law. [Adopted April 29, 1915.]

Notice to Parties Interested.

8. No legislation affecting the rights of individuals or the rights of a private or municipal corporation, otherwise than as it affects generally the people of the whole Commonwealth or the people of the city or town to which it specifically applies, shall be proposed or introduced except by a petition, nor shall any bill or resolve embodying such legislation be reported by a committee except upon a petition duly referred, nor shall such a bill or resolve be reported by a committee, whether on an original reference or on a recommittal with instructions to hear the parties, until it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the committee that proper notice of the proposed legislation has been given by public advertisement or otherwise to all parties interested, without expense to the Commonwealth, or until evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. A committee reporting leave to withdraw or reference to the next General Court for want of proper notice or of a waiver thereof shall set forth this fact in its report, and no bill or resolve shall be in order as a substitute for, or amendment of, such report. Objection to the violation of this rule may be taken at any stage prior to that of the third reading. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890.]

9. A petition for the incorporation of a town or city, or for the division of an existing town or city, or for the incorporation of a railroad, street railway, elevated railroad or canal company, or for the amendment, alteration or extension of the charter or corporate powers or privileges of any such company, either specially incorporated or organized under general laws, or for authority to take water for a water supply, or relative to building structures over navigable or tide waters, shall be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws, or by other provisions of law. A petition for the incorporation of a college or university or other educational institution, with power to grant degrees, or for an amendment of the charter of an existing educational institution so that the said institution, not having such power, shall thereafter have power to grant degrees, shall also be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws. But if, no objection being raised, any such petition is referred to a committee without such required notice, the committee shall forthwith report reference to the next General Court, setting forth as the reason for such report failure to give the required notice, unless evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. In case a bill or resolve is reported by a committee upon such a petition, after proof of such waiver of notice, this fact shall be set forth in the report of the committee. When a report of reference to the next General Court is made by a committee on account of failure to give the required notice, no bill or resolve shall be substituted for such report, nor shall such report be recommitted or referred to another committee; but reference of the petition to the next General Court for want of proper notice under this rule shall not affect action upon any other measure involving the same subject-matter. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890. Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 3, 1898; and Jan. 16, 1903.]

Limit of Time allowed for Reports of Committees.

10. Joint committees shall make final report upon all matters previously referred to them, on or before the second Wednesday in March; but, except as provided in Rule No. 30, the time within which they are required to report upon such matters may be extended, by concurrent vote, until a day not later than the second Wednesday in April. When the time within which such joint committees are required to report has expired, all matters upon which no report has then been made shall, within three legislative days thereafter, be reported by the chairman of the committee on the part of the branch in which they were respectively introduced, with a recommendation of reference to the next General Court under this rule. This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon. [Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 25, 1894; Jan. 16, 1903; and Jan. 20, 1904.]

Committees of Conference.

11. Committees of conference shall consist of three members on the part of each branch, representing its vote; and their report, if agreed to by a majority of each committee, shall be made to the branch asking the conference, and may be either accepted or rejected, but no other action shall be had, except through a new committee of conference.

Limit of Time allowed for New Business.

12. Resolutions, and petitions, memorials, bills and resolves introduced on leave, and all other subjects of legislation, except reports required or authorized to be made to the Legislature, deposited with the Clerk of either branch subsequently to five o'clock in the afternoon on the second Saturday of the session, shall, when presented, be referred to the next General Court; but this rule shall not apply to petitions in aid of, and remonstrances against, legislation already introduced and pending; nor shall it apply to a petition offered in place of a former one having in view the same object, upon which, before reference to a committee, leave to withdraw was given because the same was not in proper form, provided that such subsequent petition is deposited with the Clerk of either branch within one week from the day on which leave to withdraw was given; nor shall it apply to a bill or resolve introduced on leave or to a resolution presented subsequently to five o'clock in the afternoon on the second Saturday of the session, when such bill, resolve or resolution is based upon the report of a joint committee which has been made in compliance with instructions to report facts or to investigate, provided the said bill, resolve or resolution is introduced within one week after the committee's report is submitted. This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon: provided, however, that, except by unanimous consent, it shall not be suspended with reference to a petition for legislation when such petition is not accompanied by a bill or a resolve embodying the legislation requested. [Amended Feb. 7, 1890; Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 7, 1893; Jan. 10, 1898; Jan. 9, 1899; Feb. 15, 1901; May 4, 1904; Jan. 31, 1910; and Feb. 2, 1917.]

Requests for Legislation to be deposited with the Clerks.

13. Petitions and memorials, accompanied by bills or resolves embodying the subject-matter prayed for, bills and resolves for introduction on leave, and all other subjects of legislation, and all resolutions and orders of inquiry, intended for presentation to the General Court by any member, shall be deposited with the Clerk of the branch to which such member belongs, and shall be laid before such branch not later than at the session of the fourth legislative day succeeding the day on which the same have been so deposited. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890. Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 7, 1893; and Jan. 25, 1894.]

Dockets of Legislative Counsel and Agents.

14. The joint committee on Rules shall have authority to prescribe the manner and form of keeping the dockets of legislative counsel and agents which are required by law. [Adopted Feb. 2, 1891.]

Duties of the Clerks.

15. If any part of the report of a committee over the signature of the chairman or members of the committee is amended in either branch, the Clerk of that branch shall endorse upon the report such amendment.

16. All papers, while on their passage between the two branches, may be under the signature of the respective Clerks, except as to the adopting of emergency preambles and the final passage of bills and resolves. Messages may be sent by such persons as each branch may direct. [Amended Feb. 21, 1919.]

17. After bills and resolves have passed both branches to be engrossed, they shall be in the charge of the Clerks of the two branches, who shall deliver the same to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to be engrossed in the manner prescribed by law; and when engrossed the said Clerks shall forthwith deliver the same to the committee of the House of Representatives on Engrossed Bills; and when the bills have been passed to be enacted or the resolves have been passed in that House, they shall, in like manner, be delivered to the committee of the Senate on Engrossed Bills. If an engrossed bill or resolve contains an emergency preamble, it shall be delivered, in like manner, to the latter committee after the preamble has been adopted by the House of Representatives and before the bill or resolve is put upon its final passage in that branch; and, if the Senate concurs in adopting the preamble, the bill or resolve shall be returned to the House to be there first put upon its final passage, in accordance with the requirements of Joint Rule No. 22. [Amended Feb. 24, 1914; Feb. 21, 1919.]

18. If any petition, memorial, bill, resolve or order, presented or originating in one branch, is adversely acted upon in the other, notice thereof shall be given, under the signature of the Clerk, to the branch in which the same originated.

19. The Clerk of the branch in which a bill or a resolve originated shall make an endorsement on the envelope of the engrossed copy thereof, certifying in which branch the same originated, which endorsement shall be entered on the journals by the Clerks respectively. [Amended Jan. 28, 1889; Feb. 24, 1914.]

20. Bills, resolves and other papers requiring the approval of the Governor shall be laid before him for his approbation by the Clerk of the Senate, who shall enter upon the journal of the Senate the day on which the same were so laid before the Governor. [Amended Jan. 28, 1889.]

Printing and Distribution of Documents.

21. The joint committee on Rules may make regulations for the distribution of all documents printed or assigned for the use of the Legislature not otherwise disposed of, and such regulations shall be reported to and be subject to the order of the two branches.

Under the general order to print a report, bill or other document, the number printed shall be nine hundred.

Leave to report in print shall not be construed to authorize the printing of extended reports of evidence.

Bills, reports and other documents, printed under the general order of either branch, shall be distributed as follows, to wit: two copies to each member of the Senate and House of Representatives (to be placed on his file under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms, if desired by the member); three copies to each Clerk in either branch, and three copies to each reporter in regular attendance, to whom a seat has been assigned in either branch; twenty copies to the Executive; twenty copies to the Secretary's office; six copies to the State Library; one copy to each Public Library in the Commonwealth, which shall make due application therefor to the Sergeant-at-Arms, and shall make proper provision for the transmission and preservation thereof; and, when the document is the report of a committee, ten copies shall be assigned to the committee making the report. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall preserve as many as may be necessary for the permanent files to be placed in the lobbies, and distribute the remainder under such regulations as may be prescribed by said joint committee. [Amended Jan. 8, 1886; Jan. 28, 1889; and Jan. 27, 1911.]

Emergency Measures.

22. The vote on the preamble of an emergency law, which under the requirements of Article XLVIII of the Amendments of the Constitution must be taken by call of the yeas and nays, shall be had after the proposed law has been engrossed; and neither branch shall vote on the enactment of a bill or on the passage of a resolve containing an emergency preamble until it has been determined whether the preamble shall remain or be eliminated. If the two branches concur in adopting the preamble, the bill or resolve shall first be put upon its final passage in the House of Representatives. If either branch fails to adopt the preamble, notice of its action shall be sent to the other branch; and the bill or resolve, duly endorsed, shall be returned to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for re-engrossment without the said preamble and without any provision that the bill or the resolve shall take effect earlier than ninety days after it has become law. Procedure shall be otherwise in accordance with the joint rules and the rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives. [Adopted Feb. 21, 1919.]

Legislative Amendments of the Constitution.

23. A joint committee to which is referred any proposal for a specific legislative amendment of the Constitution shall, when recommending final action, make in each branch a separate report of its recommendation, and shall then file the said proposal, together with any official papers in its possession that relate thereto, with the Clerk of the Senate. If the committee recommends adverse action on a petition for an amendment of the Constitution, the form of the report shall be that the amendment ought not to pass. In each branch the report shall be read and forthwith placed on file; and no further legislative action shall be taken on the measure unless consideration in joint session is called for by vote of either branch, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of Part IV of Article XLVIII of the Amendments of the Constitution. If either branch calls for such consideration, notice of its action shall be sent to the other branch; and it shall then be the duty of the Senate and the House of Representatives to arrange for the holding of the joint session not later than the second Wednesday in June. Subject to the requirements of the Constitution, joint sessions or continuances of joint sessions of the two branches to consider proposals for specific amendments of the Constitution, and all rules or provisions concerning procedure therein, shall be determined only by concurrent votes of the two branches. The rules relative to joint conventions shall apply to the joint sessions of the two houses. [Adopted Feb. 21, 1919.]

Joint Conventions.

24. The President of the Senate shall preside in Conventions of the two branches, and such Conventions shall be holden in the Representatives' Chamber; the Clerk of the Senate shall be Clerk of the Convention, and a record of the proceedings of the Convention shall be entered at large on the journals of both branches.

25. When an agreement has been made by the two branches to go into Convention, such agreement shall not be altered or annulled, except by concurrent vote.

26. No business shall be entered on, in Convention, other than that which may be agreed on before the Convention is formed.

Joint Elections.

27. In all elections by joint ballot a time shall be assigned therefor at least one day previous to such election.

Recess Committees.

28. No standing or special committee of the Senate or House of Representatives and no joint committee shall sit during the recess of the General Court unless authorized so to do by concurrent votes of the two branches. [Adopted Feb. 24, 1914.]

Joint Committee on Rules.

29. All motions or orders authorizing joint committees to travel or to employ stenographers, all propositions involving special investigations by joint committees and all motions or orders proposed for joint adoption which provide that information be transmitted to the General Court shall be referred without debate to the joint committee on Rules, who, within fourteen days after such reference, shall report thereon, recommending what action should be taken. [Adopted Jan. 10, 1898. Amended Jan. 20, 1904; and Jan. 28, 1913.]

30. All motions or orders extending the time within which joint committees are required to report shall be referred without debate to the joint committee on Rules, who shall report recommending what action should be taken thereon. No such extension beyond the second Wednesday in April shall be granted, against the recommendation of the joint committee on Rules, except by a four-fifths vote of the members of each branch present and voting thereon. This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon. [Adopted Jan. 16, 1903. Amended Feb. 6, 1912.]

Members.

31. A member of either branch who directly or indirectly solicits for himself or others any position or office within the gift or control of a railroad corporation, street railway company, gas or electric light company, telegraph or telephone company, aqueduct or water company, or other public service corporation, shall be subject to suspension therefor, or to such other penalty as the branch of which he is a member may see fit to impose. [Adopted May 22, 1902.]

Accommodations for Reporters.

32. Subject to the approval and direction of the joint committee on Rules during the session and of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House after prorogation, the use of the rooms and facilities assigned to reporters in the State House shall be under the control of the organization of legislative reporters known as the Massachusetts State House Press Association. No person shall be permitted to use such rooms or facilities who is not entitled to the privileges of the reporters' gallery of the Senate or of the House. [Adopted Jan. 27, 1911. Amended Feb. 24, 1914.]

Suspension of Rules.

33. Any joint rule except the tenth, twelfth and thirtieth may be altered, suspended or rescinded by a concurrent vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch present and voting thereon. [Amended Feb. 7, 1893. Adopted in revised form Jan. 9, 1899. Amended Jan. 16, 1903.]
